ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

FINAL

Vol. 76. No. 257. (76th Year) ST. LOUIS, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1954—18 PAGES PRICE 5 CENTS

NIXON WARNS OF RETURN TO TRUMANISM IN ADDRESS HERE

Eisenhower Administration Earned Vote of Confidence by Ending Wars, Restoring Integrity, He Says.

BY HERBERT A. TRASK
State Political Correspondent for the Post-Dispatch.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, in his political barnstorming address here last night, called on the voters who elected President Eisenhower in 1952, "including Democrats and independents," to back up the President by electing another Republican Congress in November.

He told an overflow, flag-waving audience at a G.O.P. $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner at Hotel Jefferson that the Eisenhower Administration has earned a vote of confidence because it has ended wars, halted inflation and restored integrity in the Government.

'Discredited' Policies.

Repeating an argument he has been stressing in his campaign tour, the youthful Vice President declared a Republican defeat in the forthcoming congressional elections will mean a return to the "discredited" policies of the Truman Administration.

Nixon pleased his partisan audience by pounding the former Democratic Administration, much in the same way Democratic orators used to denounce the "dark days" of the Republican Hoover Administration.

He drew his biggest cheers when he raised the 1952 campaign charges of Communism and corruption in government, and Democratic blunders in the handling of the Korean war.

"The Truman-Acheson policies got us into wars," Nixon declared. "The Eisenhower-Dulles policy got us out of war.

Cites Losses to Communists.

"During the seven years of Truman-Acheson foreign policy more than 600,000,000 people were lost to the Communists without the killing of a single Russian soldier.

"After 20 months of the Eisenhower Administration, the wars in Korea and Indochina have ended. And for the first time in 12 years the world we live in is at peace."

Nixon, wearing a dark blue suit, white shirt and light blue tie, spoke rapidly, a habit of political speechmakers who are trying to squeeze all they have to say into the allotted time when their talk is being televised. The Vice President's speech was carried on a half-hour program by television station KWK-TV.

The introduction of Nixon as the televised program began was followed by several minutes of cheering by his listeners, who waved small flags which had been placed at their tables in the hotel's bunting-decorated Gold Room.

Behind the speaker's stand, from which the Vice President spoke, were large pictures of Mr. Eisenhower and Nixon. A sign between the pictures said: "They're For You."

Affair Regarded as Success.

The fund-raising affair was regarded by its St. Louis Republican sponsors as a success. A. D. (Bud) Welsh, Republican National Committeeman for Missouri, said more than 900 persons attended the dinner, and he estimated that the Republican campaign coffers were enriched by $75,000 to $80,000.

Citing reasons why the Republicans should control the next Congress, Nixon said that when the G.O.P. took over in 1953 the federal budget and taxes were at record highs and prices were going steadily up.

"In 20 months of the Eisen-

Party Fight May Give Stevenson Cut-Rate Audience at Dinner

Printing of Programs Halted to Insert Picture of Truman, Mitchell Says.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 18 (AP)—Democrats maintained a nationally optimistic attitude today despite a bitter intraparty battle which threatened to present Adlai E. Stevenson a cut-price audience tonight for a congressional campaign kick-off address.

Stevenson, scheduled for an appearance at a luncheon of Indiana editors and a major speech tonight, had little advance notice of what appeared to be a quarrel between his supporters and the Democratic organization regulars for control of the party machinery.

This conflict had progressed to the point where Stephen A. Mitchell, national chairman, told a reporter his organization had been forced to halt the printing of tonight's program, featuring Stevenson as the principal speaker, to insert a picture of former President Truman.

Stevenson, former Illinois Governor, was the party's 1952 presidential nominee. His picture already was in the program.

Ticket Sale Failure Reported.

Frank McKinney, former national chairman, said in a separate interview that the Mitchell organization, which controls the national committee, had failed to sell the 1000 seats at a $100-a-plate dinner which the party hoped to chalk up in a drive to relieve what Mitchell has said is a financial pinch for Democratic candidates all over the nation.

McKinney, who once was Truman's national chairman, said that tickets for tonight's Stevenson dinner address are being hawked without too many takers at $7.50 each. He said he and banker friends had supplied most of the $100 contributions that had been registered.

Mitchell said he had no doubt that "a former official" of the committee was attempting to make him and Paul M. Butler, Indiana National committeeman and South Bend attorney who may be in line to succeed Mitchell as national chairman, look bad on Stevenson's appearance here.

The contrast which Mitchell said his critics hoped to draw was with the sell-out audience which greeted Truman here at a testimonial dinner for McKinney last Oct. 10. Truman stayed at McKinney's home and had many kind words to say about the former chairman, who is an Indianapolis banker.

Mitchell said he thinks the blocking of the attempt to keep Truman's picture out of tonight's printed program also was intended to emphasize the contrast.

Stevenson's Comments.

When Stevenson arrived at the airport, he said the country not only needs a Democratic Congress but "we are going to have one."

Stevenson said he knew nothing about the cut-rate dinner ticket situation. He turned off questions about it with the quip: "I'm delighted that after 20 months of the Republicans, any of us Democrats can afford to pay $100."

Stevenson was asked if he approved of former President Truman's assertion that President Eisenhower needs a Demo-

RUG PULLED FROM UNDER MAN WHO USED IT AS BANK

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18 (UP)—David Bicoff called the police yesterday when he returned home from work and discovered his wife had two trash collectors remove an unsightly hall rug.

Unknown to his wife, Bicoff had saved $1400 over a period of years for a "dream house" and had hidden the money under the carpet.

SUGGESTS ZWICKER GET BATTLE RIBBON IN BLACK AND BLUE

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J., Sept. 18 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, who figured prominently in the Army-McCarthy hearings, yesterday was humorously suggested as one who should receive a black and blue campaign ribbon for his appearances before the McCarthy committee.

Zwicker was guest of honor at a Chamber of Commerce farewell luncheon honoring him for his service to the community while commanding general of nearby Camp Kilmer. Mayors of four surrounding communities were among the 150 persons attending.

William H. Baumer, special assistant to the president of Johnson & Johnson, surgical dressing manufacturers, said of Zwicker's appearance before the committee headed by Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (Rep.), Wisconsin:

"If the General were to be awarded a ribbon for his service before the committee, it would be in black and blue.

"In his appearance before the Senate Committee," Baumer said, Zwicker "was a soldier doing his job to the best of his ability . . ."

PRESIDENT PAINTS COLOR-SPLOTCHED MOUNTAIN SCENE

FRASER, Colo., Sept. 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower got out his easel and oil paints and went to work again today on a Rocky mountain landscape vivid with the bright yellow of aspen trees and the green of pines.

Seated just outside a rustic cabin at the Aksel Nielsen ranch where he is vacationing, the President chose to paint a smaller mountain situated alongside towering Byers peak, which rises nearly 14,000 feet a few miles from the ranch.

The scene was typical of the Colorado country at this time of year, when almost every mountainside is splotched with breath-taking color.

The President, who has been painting as a hobby for the last several years, got started on the landscape Thursday afternoon and worked for an hour or more on it again yesterday.

He also got in some more trout fishing, and aids reported that his luck—which had not been too good—was somewhat improved. Around dusk Thursday he finally caught a couple of trout after several hours of trying. James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, reported the President also hooked a few yesterday. He plans more fishing today.

EX-BOOKKEEPER FACES CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT

Former Kribs Motor Employe Named in Warrant—$25,801 Shortage Indicated.

Francis X. Price, former bookkeeper and office manager of Kribs Motors, Inc., was charged in a warrant issued today with embezzlement from the retail automobile sales and service agency at 3205 Natural Bridge avenue.

Price's arrest followed a complaint to police by W. R. Kribs, president of the motor company, who said an audit had revealed an apparent shortage of $25,801 in the company's accounts during the period from March, 1952, to January, 1954. Price who lives at 6926 Arthur avenue, was employed by the company in this period.

On advice of counsel, Price declined to discuss the charges with police. He did, however, identify a photostatic copy of a statement he gave the company last Jaunary in which he admitted converting $1000 in company funds to his own use.

In a report to the company on his audit, Ernest E. Rowold, a certified public accountant, said the shortages developed in a number of ways. He reported finding shortages in bank deposits and in insurance premiums received by the firm, illegal conversion of payroll checks, overstatements of parts inventories and irregularities in the petty cash account.

Assistant Circuit Attorney Richard Dempsey, who issued the warrant on application by police, said the matter would be presented to the grand jury.

EXPRESS TRAIN HITS TIE ON TRACK; FOUR YOUTHS HELD

PAINESVILLE, O., Sept. 18 (AP) — Lake county sheriff's deputies arrested four youths yesterday and called in the Federal Bureau of Investigation to check on a story about an attempt to derail a train.

Train wrecking is a federal offense and the Cleveland FBI office said it had been notified.

A New York Central mail and express train, traveling eastward at 70 miles an hour, struck a tie on the tracks Monday, but was not derailed. The incident touched off a hunt by policemen.

W. B. Evans, chief deputy sheriff, said police Chief Michael Zampini at nearby Perry arrested a youth on suspicion and that led to the other three arrests.

Evans said all four of the youths had orally admitted parts in the case. He identified the youths as Ronald Davis, 21 years old, of Perry; Okey Cottrell, 18, of Perry; Eugene King, 19, of Mentor Headlands, and Ronald Peterson, 20, of Geneva.

TORNADO CARRIES HOUSE 200 FEET, KILLS MAN, WIFE

FORT PIERCE, Fla., Sept. 18 (AP)—A tornado accompanying a thunderstorm carried a house 200 feet through the air early today and dropped it in a jumble of wreckage, killing two persons.

Tillman Lamb Lott and his wife, Mary, were dead when dug out of the wreckage by police and fire squads.

The son, Arlond Lott, 18 years old, and a guest, Bobby Jolly, 20, were admitted to a hospital with severe chest injuries.

The twister struck at 1:45 a.m. during a severe thunderstorm. It sawed a course shaped like the letter "U," picking up the frame one-story dwelling and hurling it 200 feet. No other damage was caused by the storm.

EDUCATORS URGE CHARTER VOTE FOR CITY CONTROL OF OWN DESTINY

St. Louis Should Have Right to Decide on Tax, Hickey Says—Plan Won't Boost Levy, Shepley Asserts.

The people of St. Louis should be able to control their own destiny, leading educators said last night in urging adoption of the charter amendment to give the city home rule on the earnings tax.

Philip J. Hickey, superintendent of instruction of the St. Louis public schools; the Very Rev. Paul C. Reinert, S.J., president of St. Louis University, and Ethan A. H. Shepley, chancellor of Washington University, took part in a panel discussion broadcast by Radio Station KMOX.

"One of the great principles of American education is the fostering of good citizenship," Hickey stated. "We work to get out the vote in elections on civic issues. In this case we feel strongly that the city should have the right to decide whether it should tax earnings."

If 60 per cent of those voting in the special election on Sept. 30 approve the proposed charter amendment, St. Louis no longer will have to obtain special permission from the State Legislature to levy an earnings tax in order to balance its budget.

Control of Destiny Urged.

"This issue goes to the heart of our principle of government," Shepley asserted. "The people most immediately affected should be able to control their own destiny. State legislators are not directly accountable to the citizens of St. Louis, but members of the Board of Aldermen are.

"The charter amendment would give the aldermen authority to tax earnings. In principle, the people should insist on having the right to make this decision for themselves through their elected representatives in the Board of Aldermen."

Shepley emphasized that a vote for the charter amendment is not a vote for any additional tax; the city has been taxing earnings since 1948. The charter amendment would prevent any increase in the tax by limiting the rate to one-half of 1 per cent, the rate now in force.

"The danger is that so many people are for the charter amendment voters may be tempted to stay home and not bother to go to the polls," Shepley said.

Warning by Father Reinert.

Father Reinert expressed concern over curtailment of public services that might be necessitated if the city lost the $8,000,000 in annual revenue produced by the earnings tax. City officials have warned that playgrounds and swimming pools would have to be closed and other drastic economies would have to be made.

"Prevention of juvenile delinquency is a growing and pressing problem," Father Reinert said. "With the earnings tax, the city is able to provide funds for recreational facilities important to the guidance of juveniles. Citizens should be concerned about the effect on youth here if the city's recreational program had to be abandoned or curtailed."

The issue boils down to a question of getting home rule on a purely local matter, said Richard G. Baumhoff, of the administrative staff of the Post-Dispatch, who served as moderator of the radio panel.

Latest organization to indorse the charter amendment is the Urban League of St. Louis, Community Chest social welfare agency working to improve living standards of Negroes. The league board of directors adopted a resolution supporting home rule on the earnings tax.

Support of School Group.

The employes' contact committee of the Board of Education, representing 5500 public school workers in St. Louis, has pledged its support for the charter amendment.

A committee to work against the home rule measure was organized yesterday at a meeting attended by representatives of 17 labor unions. Lloyd Weber, business representative of District 9, AFL Machinists' Union, was elected chairman.

This move was countered by the labor subcommittee of the Citizens' Committee for Home Rule on the Earnings Tax. John P. Barton, acting chairman of the subcommittee, said leaders of about 40 unions are sending letters to their members urging support for the charter amendment, and are distributing campaign posters for display in union halls and on construction projects.

LIPSTICK BAR FOR TEACHERS IN FORMOSA STIRS UP ROW

TAIPEH, Formosa, Sept. 18 (AP)—A proposal that women teachers be barred from using lipstick, rouge and facepowder stirred up a row in the Taipeh City Council today. No decision was reached.

Supporters of the proposal contended it would be in keeping with "wartime austerity."

An indignant woman council member said the group shouldn't waste its time on "such trivial matters."

CALL FOR LONDON PARLEY ON REARMING GERMANS GOING OUT TO 9 NATIONS

DULLES SAYS GERMAN PLAN IS NOT FULLY DEVELOPED

'No Adequate Substitute for EDC' Yet Worked Out but 'Many Minds' Are Studying What to Do.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., Sept. 18 (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today no acceptable substitute for the European Defense Community plan had been fully developed but that he hoped for something to "justify a preliminary meeting" of foreign ministers late this month.

Dulles flew here from London for a weekend rest at his cottage on Duck Island in Lake Ontario, after meeting with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and deciding that a nine-power conference should be held late this month to consider how to bring West Germany into the Atlantic alliance.

Dulles said in a statement as he alighted from the plane that he felt "confident that we can continue to count on the federal republic of Germany to pursue policies of wisdom and moderation . . ."

He said he believed the American people generally shared the views of Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany that German sovereignty should be restored.

"It is apparent," Dulles said, ". . . that there is no adequate substitute for the European Defense Community. Nevertheless we must do the best that we can. Many minds are resourcefully studying what next steps are in order.

"We hope that sufficient preparatory work can be done within the coming week to justfiy a preliminary meeting of the foreign ministers of the countries concerned during the week following that.

"It would be a mistake to assume that any acceptable solution has been fully developed.

CIGAR-SHAPED OBJECT IN SKY STARTLES ROME

ROME, Sept. 18 (AP)—Startled Romans who saw a strange cigar-shaped object streaking over the capital last night flooded newspaper offices with anxious calls. Radar operators also reported picking up the object on their instruments.

Technicians at Ciampino airfield outside Rome described it as a "half cigar" which appeared at one instant to plummet toward the earth for more than 1000 feet, then rose at tremendous speed and finally vanished.

Ciampino officials alerted the air which center at Pratica di Mare near Rome's Ostia Beach. Observers there said they caught the object in their radar instruments.

They described it as silver-colored on one side and red on the other, and said it was traveling in a northwest direction. Several witnesses said the object seemed to emit a trail of smoke.

BRITISH 'WRENS' ON HUNGER STRIKE—FOOD TOO FATTENING

200 Try to March Out of Mess Hall to Nearby Restaurants.

LEE-ON-SOLENT, England, Sept. 18 (AP) — Two hundred "Wrens"—of the Women's Royal Naval Service—are on a hunger strike. They find navy food too fattening.

The dispute arose over yesterday's lunch—bean puree, grilled sausages, fried onions and boiled potatoes, followed by suet pudding and treacle (syrup). The girls took one look and tried to march out to restaurants near their barracks.

Their commanding officer told them to eat the lunch provided, or go hungry.

MOVES HOUSE TWICE TO LET AIRPORT GROW, STILL IN WAY

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 18 (UP)—Deputy Sheriff David Schultz gave up today. Twice in the last seven years he has moved his house to make way for expansion of Mitchell Field Airport.

Now the Air Force has acquired a 100-acre tract for a projected jet reserve training center and Schultz is in the way again.

Schultz said he would move all right but this time he won't move the house. Air Force officials said it would make a fine officer's club.

'Poor Risk' Now Is 102.

WINCHENDON, Mass., Sept. 18 (AP)—When Edward C. Blackwell of Goshen, Vt., applied for an insurance policy in 1878, the company turned him down as a "poor risk." Blackwell, now the oldest living graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, celebrated his one hundred second birthday today.

REDS, TIBETANS REPORTED IN FATAL CLASHES

Chinese Reds Said to Have Declared State of Emergency, Called for More Troops.

CALCUTTA, India, Sept. 18 (UP)—Natives of eastern Tibet have rebelled against Communist Chinese occupation forces in a series of fatal clashes, reports reaching India's border said today.

The reports said Red Chinese troops had to declare a state of emergency and call reinforcements into Tibet's eastern provinces.

Chieftains in China.

The rebellion in the isolated mountain nation coincided with the junket of its two chieftains—the Dalai Lama and the Panchen Lama, to Peiping, where Communist propagandists claimed they expressed "war support" for Chinese domination of their homeland.

Communist Chinese invaded Tibet in October 1950 and seized communications.

Travelers reaching Kalimpong, India, along the Himalayan trails out of Tibet, brought reports that both Tibetans and Communists were killed in the recent clashes.

The area where the reported uprisings occurred was the scene of a protest against Communist rule last year when natives refused to pay taxes.

New China News Agency said Thursday that the Dalai Lama, spiritual leader of the Tibetans, addressed Red China's first congress and said Tibetan-Chinese unity is "growing day by day."

The Dalai Lama's government in 1950 appealed to the United Nations against the invasion by China's "people's liberation army," but the U.N. did not intervene.

Palace Invaded.

It has been said that the Dalai Lama, chosen while still a boy of 5 to become the nation's future ruler, and who was only 15 years old when the Reds invaded his country, stood firm against the Communists until his own monastery-palace was occupied.

The Panchen Lama, who is only 17, has been reported pro-Communist. He relieved the Dalai Lama of his duties as temporal ruler of Tibet after the Communist conquest.

He told the Chinese congress yesterday that Tibet's leaders have "pledged continuous efforts to strengthen and consolidate unity among the Tibetan people."

DULLES AND EDEN URGE FAST ACTION IN GRANTING BONN 'FULL EQUALITY'

Meeting of About Sept. 28 Will Be Followed in Mid-October by Conference of 14 NATO Powers.

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP)—A call went out today for a nine-power conference to seek a way to bring West Germany into the Atlantic alliance, with the United States and Britain urging "full equality" for the Bonn republic.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, conferring in a long session here yesterday, decided that the meeting of foreign ministers should be held in London late this month.

The Foreign Office announced that the session will open on or about Sept. 28.

Dulles flew back to the United States last night.

All 14 members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization also are slated to get together about Oct. 15 to study the crucial problem of German rearmament. NATO headquarters in Paris yesterday called for the meeting but did not set the time or place. Paris has been suggested. Athens and Ottawa also have been mentioned.

(The United Press said French Premier Mendes-France gave preliminary approval to a plan to bring West Germany into a community of nations but indicated he opposes immediate German membership in NATO. It quoted statements made by Mendes-France to the Manchester Guardian.)

British the Hosts.

The British Foreign Office announced it would issue invitations at once for the London meeting. They will go to the United States and Canada as well as to the six nations which had considered pooling their armed forces in the now-defunct European Defense Community—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The conference will be able to take up actual methods of linking Germany with NATO, diplomatic informants said. The French government already has agreed in principle to such a tieup but the French want written guarantees that British and American troops will remain on the continent and German rearmament will not be allowed to run rampant.

Eden suggested that the nine nations meet to consider a substitute for EDC soon after the French Assembly killed the unified army plan on Aug. 30, but the United States and West Germany indicated they were not ready for such talks.

The agreement to hold the London conference was reached after Eden made a six-day swing through key European capitals, outlining new British proposals, and Dulles made his whirlwind trip to Bonn and London.

Dulles met Chancellor Adenauer in the German capital and saw both Eden and Prime Minister Churchill during his one-day stop in London.

U.S.-British Communique.

A joint communique issued after the Dulles-Eden meeting said the two ministers exchanged views "in the light of their recent journeys on the situation caused by the French Assembly's rejection of the EDC."

"They agreed," the statement said, "upon the need for speedy action and favored the early convening of a preparatory conference to consider how best to associate the German Federal Republic with the Western nations on a basis of full equality."

The proposals Eden outlined this week call for a new western European alliance much looser than the one-uniform army envisaged by EDC. Britain would play a full role, and the grouping would be a part of NATO.

The plan was greeted enthusiastically by diplomats Eden talked to in Brussels, Bonn and Rome. The Paris reaction was not completely clear, but the plan's supporters hope its guarantees will remove French fears of German dominance.

The European Assembly, a 15-nation consultative body, continued its debate today in Strasbourg, France, on how to bring about West European unity now that EDC is dead. Several speakers said yesterday that full British participation is needed to make any substitute plan work. British parliamentarians did not support this contention.

Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak told the assembly

Court Says Singer May Practice Despite Day-Sleeping Neighbor

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—Singer Miriam Scott, who has appeared in "Oklahoma!," "Carousel," "Show Boat," "Blossom Time" and other musicals, won the right in court yesterday to practice in her Queens apartment.

This right was challenged by a neighbor, Mrs. Katherine Gibson, who got a summons charging Miss Scott with disturbing the peace, Mrs. Gibson, who works at night as a waitress, said she couldn't sleep because Miss Scott practicse operatic singing and "her voice is a screech."

Another tenant disagreed with Mrs. Gibson, saying that it was a pleasure to hear the singer. Miss Scott's attorney offered to hire a studio so that Magistrate Paul Balsam could hear her "glorious voice."

The magistrate declined, dismissed the charge and told Mrs. Gibson, "You should be glad that you can hear this performance free. Some day, you may be paying a lot of money to hear her sing."

Soldier, Forced Into Battle, Gets Second Highest U.S. Honor

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 18 (AP)—A young Atlanta sergeant who went into battle with a shotgun at his back was awarded the Army's second highest military decoration yesterday for gallantry in Korea.

Gen. John E. Dahlquist, chief of the Army Field Forces, Fort Monroe, Va., presented the Distinguished Service Cross to Dan L. Gallimore, 23 years old, who didn't like the Army and didn't want to fight.

Gallimore, a Pfc. rifleman in the Fifteenth Infantry Regiment, distinguished himself on a battlefield near Songnae-Dong, North Korea, on June 11, 1953.

He jumped shipment to Korea twice and finally was sent over under shotgun guard "with a bunch of guys in the stockade."

"I didn't go for the Army in any way," the reluctant sergeant recalled, "but they finally got me over there."

The citation said Gallimore's regiment came under intense hostile attack, and the sergeant pushed through the barrage to an enemy-occupied position and opened fire on it. A shell burst shattered his rifle, but Gallimore got another and continued to fire until his outfit was encircled. Gallimore started to fight his way back, annihilating occupants of a nearby bunker with hand grenades. He came to the rescue of two men caring for the wounded, and dispersed the foe. He remained in the area until the enemy was routed.

JUDGE NOMINEES FOR KANSAS CITY ARE REJECTED FOR THIRD TIME

Governor Charges 'Open and Odorous' Violation of Court Plan, Calls for New Panels Acceptable to Him.

By BOYD F. CARROLL
Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 18—Nine nominations for three circuit judge appointments in Jackson (Kansas City) county under the nonpartisan court plan, in controversy between Gov. Phil M. Donnelly and a nominating commission for nearly a year, were rejected by Donnelly late yesterday for the third time.

The much traveled panels of three lawyer nominees for each of the judicial appointments today completed by mail their third round trip between the Sixteenth Circuit Judicial Commission in Kansas City and the Governor's office in the Capitol.

Donnelly, in a renewal of blasts at the commission, asserted the nine nominations submitted by a divided vote were based on political considerations, and were in "open and odorous" violation of provisions of the constitutional nonpartisan court plan.

Calls for New Panels.

He called for submission of new panels acceptable to him, as he did on each of the two previous rejections on Oct. 9, 1953 and last Feb. 5.

Immediate resignation of three of the five judicial commission members, who consistently have voted for the three original panels, was urged by the Governor.

These three members, who took the position they could not reconsider their original nominations under the court plan provisions of the Constitution and Supreme Court rules, are Clarence C. Chilcott, a lawyer elected by the Sixteenth Circuit Bar, and two lay members, John P. Mullane and Frank S. Land, both appointed by former Gov. Forrest Smith.

Two Commended by Governor.

Donnelly, in his letter of rejection, highly commended presiding Judge Nick T. Cave of the Kansas City Court of Appeals, and chairman of the Sixteenth Circuit Commission, who voted for only one panel — a solidly Republican one — and Charles M. Blackmar, elected lawyer member, who refused to approve any of the three panels.

Meanwhile the three additional divisions of the Jackson County Circuit Court authorized by the 1953 Legislature, in an act approved by Donnelly and effective Aug. 29, 1953, remain idle because judges to man the divisions, two in Kansas City and one in Independence, have not been appointed.

From the outset Donnelly had charged selection of the three nominee panels, two solidly Democratic and one solidly Republican, was based largely, "if not solely, upon political considerations and the political affiliations of the nominees submitted."

One of the Democratic panels included three lawyers affiliated with factions of the Kansas City Democratic organization which did not support Donnelly for the Democratic nomination for Governor in the 1952 primary election.

Another Objection.

The Governor yesterday objected, aside from his letter, that the majority group of the commission even had sent the nominations to him three times "on the same original paper," instead of writing them on a new sheet.

"Without casting any reflection upon the integrity of any nominee," Donnelly said in the letter addressed to Judge Cave as chairman, "I hold it to be self-evident that all of the circumstances surrounding the vacancies now existing in the Circuit Court of Jackson County are of an obvious political and partisan nature on their very face."

Donnelly recalled that Commissioner Chilcott has been quoted in a Kansas City newspaper, after the second rejection of the panels, as saying it had been necessary to agree with Republican members of the 1953 Legislature that one solidly Republican panel would be sent to Donnelly, to obtain passage of the bill creating the three new judgeships, and another bill increasing judicial salaries.

Reason for Action.

That action obviously was to assure appointment of a Republican by Donnelly, a Democrat, as one of the three new judges, it was said.

"Messrs. Land and Mullane are the members of the commission who are exerting every effort to get their fellow member, Mr. Chilcott, 'off the barrel' by assisting him in carrying out his agreement," Donnelly said.

The Governor asserted all three of them "have forfeited their right to the offices they occupy as well as the confidence of the people of Jackson county."

"While I have never contended that the Governor should be clothed with the authority to compel a judicial nominating commission to do his bidding," Donnelly said, "I have always felt and still feel that the Governor should not be forced to appoint judicial nominees who, he conscientiously and sincerely feels, were not selected in accordance with the purpose and intention of the non-partisan court plan."

He said he believed his constitutional and inherent right to pass on the qualifications of nominees, before exercising his appointive powers, should be preserved at all times.

Constitutional Provision.

The constitutional provision on the court plan specifies the Governor "shall" fill a judicial vacancy subject to the plan, by appointing one of three qualified nominees, submitted by a court plan commission.

Donnelly said he was returning all of the nominations "since the purpose and intent of the nonpartisan court plan has been deliberately disregarded and flouted in the selection of nominees." He said he would act on any panels submitted by the Sixteenth Commission "only when the nominees certified are selected in accordance with the principles of the nonpartisan court plan."

Last July the Missouri Supreme Court, at the request of bar associations of the state, revised its rules for administration of the court plan in an effort to break the deadlock between Donnelly and the Kansas City Commission.

The court drafted a new rule specifying that a court plan commission, having submitted a panel of nominees to the Governor, could before he made an appointment withdraw any name or names for substantial cause, affecting the nominee's qualifications.

But the court sought to prevent any dictation to a commission concerning reconsideration or submission of new panels.

"Nothing herein contained," the rule provided, "shall be deemed to impose (or to recognize) any obligation whatsoever upon any commission to reconsider or withdraw any nomination, whether or not the Governor shall have requested reconsideration thereof, or shall have purported to reject such nominations."

ALLIES AND REDS CONTINUE EXCHANGE OF WAR DEAD

SEOUL, Sept. 18 (AP) — Two hundred more Allied war dead, including the first Turkish body, were returned from Communist soil today as the Korean armistice body exchange neared an end.

The Reds delivered the bodies of 56 Americans, one South Korean, seven Australians, one Turk and 135 of unknown Allied nationality in the neutral zone near Panmunjom.

The Allies today turned over 200 North Korean and 200 unknown remains and Monday will deliver 300 North Koreans and 100 Chinese. Delivery of Communist bodies now totals 8400, including 1200 Chinese, 6700 North Korean and 500 unknown. The United Nations plans to turn back more than 14,000 bodies.

WHEAT TRADE AGREEMENT SIGNED BY BRAZIL AND U.S.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 18 (UP)—Brazil and the United States had an agreement today whereby Brazil will purchase 100,000 tons of United States hard winter No. 2 wheat at $75.90 a ton in return for about $7,500,000 of United States purchases of Brazilian strategic materials and semi-processed goods.

In Buenos Aires, meanwhile, it was announced that Argentina and Italy have concluded a $31,375,000 wheat deal.

The Argentine foreign trade monopoly agreed to sell the Italian government 500,000 tons of wheat at $62.50 a ton, with deliveries to start next month.

DISMISSES CHARGES AGAINST EX-U.S. ATTORNEY ON GUAM

DETROIT, Sept. 18 (AP) — Federal charges that James Mackey, former United States attorney on Guam, used expired Government credentials to aid in cashing a $710 personal check were dismissed in United States district court. Judge Ralph Freeman dismissed the charges for lack of evidence.

Former President at Press Conference

—United Press Telephotos.

Former President HARRY S. TRUMAN alternating between jovial and serious moods as he held press conference at Kansas City yesterday for the first time since his illness last June. He is scheduled to make one major speech in this fall's election campaign and told reporters he is anxious to do everything he can to help elect a Democratic Congress "but the doctor says I can't do too much."

PARTY FIGHT MAY GIVE STEVENSON CUT-RATE AUDIENCE

cratic Congress to support his foreign policies.

"The Democrats will support any President who is working for the country's interests," Stevenson said. "The country not only needs to have a Democratic Congress but we are going to have one."

Butler said in an interview he believes tonight's dinner will raise about $60,000 for the national party's campaign chest. He said that between 600 and 700 tickets have been sold at $100 each. He said it always had been planned to make tickets available to county chairmen, vice chairmen, committee members and some others at $7.50 each. He said about 400 such tickets have been sold. The dinner reportedly will cost the party $5.50 a plate.

Truman Letter to Mitchell.

Truman wrote Mitchell a letter publicized here yesterday in which the former President said that President Eisenhower needs a Democratic congress to "go down in history as a successful President who helped save the free world."

The Truman argument was that Republicans in Congress would not support the Eisenhower foreign policies of co-operating with friendly nations and only a Democratic Congress could assure such a result.

Mitchell said he agreed fully with this thesis and there was no indication that Truman himself had any knowledge of what Democrats generally regarded as primarily a local fight between dissident Democratic leaders.

There was ample evidence, however, that this family argument goes to the heart of a struggle between divergent elements for control of the party machinery after Mitchell retires shortly after the November elections in which control of Congress will be determined.

Mitchell generally represents Democrats who want Stevenson for their party's nominee in 1956. But Stevenson is not expected to be either a drafted candidate or to win the nomination without a fight from elements who want a new face in the race.

It was considered significant in some quarters that only 29 of the 108 members of the Democratic National Committee personally answered the roll call at yesterday's closed session of the committee.

There were 46 alternates, many of them obviously handed their credentials by party leaders in Washington, to fill out the ranks of what was by all odds a slimly-attended session which had been advertised in advance as a kick-off drive in the campaign for control of Congress.

Democrats Appear Optimistic.

Despite all of these factors, the Democrats were able to muster an outward optimism that was not matched by members of the Republican National Committee at their recent session in Cincinnati.

From both sides of the continent, Democrats brought stories of what they called a resurgence of their party in congressional campaigns, senatorial races and Governors' contests.

Paul Zeffrin, California national commiteeman, said in an interview that he thinks Democratic candidates have better than an even chance to win the governorship and a senatorial post in California. He predicted his party will gain a minimum of three or four seats in the Pacific Coast state.

Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, Democratic national committeeman for Pennsylvania, said his state is in the same position as Maine, which elected Edmund S. Muskie, a Democrat, as that state's first Democratic Governor in 20 years. Muskie was promoted to a speaker's billing on today's program.

Lawrence said in an interview that he believes Pennsylvania voters not only will elect Democrat George M. Leader as Governor over Republican Lloyd H. Wood but will give Democrats a gain of about six seats in the closely-divided House of Representatives.

This victory theme was echoed by Democrats from all sections, including Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas, the House minority leader.

'Horsefeathers' Is G.O.P. Reaction to Truman's Views.

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 — "Horsefeathers" was the most succinct of prompt and vigorous Republican reaction last night to former President Truman's assertion that President Eisenhower "needs" a Democratic Congress to carry out his program.

It came from James L. Murphy, chairman of the National Citizens for Eisenhower Congressional committee.

"Harry Truman is full of horsefeathers," Mr. Murphy said. "Four years ago he said that a President can't carry out a program when the opposition party controls Congress. He was exactly right then, but he has turned turtle now."

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said:

"It is an old axiom that when you get unsolicited advice you consider the source. When the American people consider, as they certainly will, the Truman Administration record on Korea, corruption and Communism in the world, they are very likely to do the opposite of what Mr. Truman suggests. They will vote for a Republican Congress."

PEIPING LEADER CHIDES CHINA REDS FOR THEIR VANITY

TOKYO, Sept. 18 (AP)—A member of Red China's powerful politburo sounded a warning in Peiping yesterday that the Communist party could be destroyed from within unless a way of thinking by Chinese "puffed up with themselves" is overcome.

Peng Chen addressed the third day's session of the Communist-dominated People's Congress, ostensibly on the new draft constitution, but he spent most of the time calling for vigilance against internal dangers.

In a broadcast heard in Tokyo, the Peiping radio quoted Peng as calling for alertness against "remnant internal counter-revolutionaries."

"There are some kinds of people who consider themselves to have had some 'merit' or have 'toiled' and are puffed up with themselves," Peng said.

"It is a way of thinking that will corrupt and demoralize our cadres (party workers) and destroy them. It might even develop into a way of thinking that might destroy our country and our party. We must ruthlessly criticize and overcome it."

30-DAY WEATHER OUTLOOK: NORMAL RAINFALL IN AREA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Weather Bureau said yesterday in its 30-day outlook for mid-September to mid-October it expects temperatures to average below seasonal normals in the Great Lakes region, Ohio valley and northern Plains.

The bureau added that above normal temperatures are indicated over the southwestern quarter of the nation. In other areas departures from seasonal normals are expected to be small.

Precipitation is expected to equal or exceed normal over most areas of the country, including Missouri, except for subnormal amounts over the southwest.

U.N. GROUP SAYS S. AFRICA REFUSES TO JOIN IN STUDY

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 18 (AP) — A United Nations commission appointed to settle a dispute of India and Pakistan with South Africa reported failure yesterday because of the "unco-operative attitude" of South Africa.

The "good offices commission," charged in 1952 with negotiating better treatment of Indians in South Africa, said in its report to the forthcoming General Assembly that it was "unable to submit any proposal likely to lead to a peaceful settlement of the problem."

South Africa held the question was a purely domestic matter outside the U.N.'s purview.

OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME

BELFAST, Sept. 18 (AP) — Robert Mooney accidentally got locked up for the night—in a pub. Barmen found him there next morning, surrounded by empty bottles and a sea of spilled beer.

"A glorious kind of incarceration," Magistrate J. H. Campbell called it. He ordered Mooney to pay the pub owner £50 ($140) to meet the damage he had done.

CHIANG'S PLANES STEP UP ATTACKS ON CHINA COAST

Tanker Reported Sunk, 4 Gunboats Damaged in Heaviest Air Action Since Raids Began.

TAIPEH, Formosa, Sept. 18 (AP)—Nationalist Chinese, flying American-built Thunderjets, teamed up with bombers today in the heaviest air action against the Chinese Reds since the air and artillery fighting in the Quemoy area flared up 16 days ago.

A communique said the raiders attacked Communist shipping off Fukien—the province opposite Formosa—with excellent results. (See Page 2, Post-Dispatch Atlas section of Sept. 12.)

The communique claimed four gunboats were damaged, one so seriously it probably sank and that a 1000-ton tanker was destroyed.

Official sources said rocket-firing Nationalist planes hit and damaged a Communist tanker of about 1000 tons about 45 miles southwest of Quemoy today. Several Red gunboats also were hit, the sources added.

The current vest pocket war around Nationalist-held Quemoy, seven miles off the China coast, was touched off by a five-hour Red bombardment Sept. 3.

Lt. Gen. Chang Yi-ting, official army spokesman, said he would make no predictions except that anything might happen in the future.

Chang said Nationalist planes yesterday dropped leaflets on Foochow, capital of coastal Fukien province. The leaflets told of developments around Quemoy, which used to be part of the province, and expressed concern over the plight of flood victims in Red China.

The ministry said all was quiet yesterday around the Tachen islands, Nationalist-held strongpoint 350 miles north of Quemoy where there have been minor artillery exchanges in recent days.

Red China Reports Withdrawing Troops From Korea.

LONDON, Sept. 18 (UP)—Communist China announced yesterday that some of its troops have begun a withdrawal from Korea.

The New China news agency in a dispatch from Pyongyang, North Korea, said "Chinese People's Volunteer units yesterday began withdrawing from Korea at Sinuiju, one of the ports of entry as provided for in the Korean armistice agreement."

The dispatch broadcast by the Peiping radio did not specify the destination of the "5400 military personnel."

The Red Chinese radio, meanwhile, said a military leader told the People's Congress meeting in Peiping that "the whole army" is determined to liberate Formosa.

The speaker was Gen. Yeh Chien-ying, recently named vice chairman of the People's Revolutionary Military Council.

ATTLEE FAVORS TALKS BY BRITISH, RUSSIAN PREMIERS

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Sept. 18 (AP) — British Labor Party Leader Clement Attlee said today talks between Prime Minister Churchill and Soviet Premier Malenkov could be useful at this stage.

Attlee, who held a press conference before leaving for Canada on way to England, said it might be a good idea to call a four-power conference at the top level now that the Indochina war was ended.

The former Prime Minister said he would report to Labor party leaders on his recent tour of Red China and that he might have talks with members of Churchill's cabinet.

WHOLESALE PRICE INDEX SHOWS RISE OF 0.1 PCT. IN WEEK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP) —Wholesale prices as reported by the Bureau of Labor Statistics averaged one tenth of 1 per cent higher during the week ended Sept. 14.

The bureau's index rose to 110 per cent of the 1947-49 average. Higher average prices for processed foods were reported as average prices for farm products and industrial materials remained unchanged.

PHILIPPINE ARMY CLEARS MOUNT ARAYAT OF REBELS

MAINILA, Sept. 18 (AP)—Mount Arayat, 3000-foot jungle covered peak, was swept clean of Communist-led Hucks today for the first time in the Philippines' eight-year-old rebel war.

Army troopers swarmed unopposed to the summit of the monsoon-soaked mountain in Pampanga province, heart of the Huk country, about 65 air miles north of Manila.

Last February President Ramon Magsaysay launched a major drive to crush the Huk movement. Highlight of the campaign was the surrender last May 17 of Luis M. Taruc after he had been cornered by 2400 soldiers only a few miles from the base of Arayat. The rebel leader is now serving a 12-year sentence on charges of rebellion.

Court Orders Patino Family To Return Baby to Her Father

Paris Judge Says Wealthy Grandmother Must Take the Infant Back to Briton James Goldsmith Immediately.

PARIS, Sept. 18 (AP) — A Paris judge directed the wealthy Patino family today to restore 4-month-old Isabela Goldsmith to her father "without delay." A lawyer for the Patinos at first shouted angrily "we will appeal" but later the Patino legal staff said the order would be obeyed.

There was no hint when the baby would be handed over to her father but police said they expected it to be done tonight.

James Goldsmith, 20-year-old son of a British hotel owner, declared he would ask police to search all the residences of the Patino family for his ailing young daughter if she is not returned voluntarily within "a few hours."

Goldsmith said the search would include "the house where Antenor Patino lives."

Isabela has been held by Mrs. Antenor Patino, her grandmother, at an undisclosed spot. Mrs. Patino is separated from her husband, a Bolivian tin millionaire, but both want the child taken out of Goldsmith's hands.

Mrs. Patino asked the civil court to grant her custody of Isabela, born prematurely to James and 18-year-old Isabela Patino Goldsmith just before her mother died from a brain tumor last May 14. The death was a tragic aftermath to the runaway romance of James and Isabela the previous December.

Judge Jean Ausset, president of the tribunal of the Seine department, declared today: "The moral qualities of the Goldsmith family cannot be doubted." He added that "there is no reason" why Goldsmith should not have the custody of the child immediately.

The judge noted that Goldsmith's mother had "happily agreed" to take care of the child and live permanently with her.

Court attaches said the baby must be returned at once, or otherwise a charge of kidnaping filed by Goldsmith against "unknown persons" could be directed specifically at the Patino family.

The custody fight flared into the open Wednesday when James complained to the police that his daughter, suffering from anoxemia (lack of oxygen in the blood), had been "kidnaped."

The father said his daughter and her Grandmother Patino disappeared from the Versailles hotel where he had left Isabela while he went on a business trip to Africa. He filed a charge of "non-presentation of child."

But Mrs. Patino had already petitioned the civil court for permanent custody of the granddaughter on the ground James could not care for her suitably. Mrs. Patino said the child needed "a feminine presence."

Yesterday Judge Ausset personally inspected the luxurious apartment Goldsmith obtained for the child. Today, apparently satisfied with the arrangements, he ruled that Goldsmith should have the baby.

'JOE MUST GO' HEAD PLANS NEW TRY THIS FALL

CHICAGO, Sept. 18 (AP)—A new attempt to unseat Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (Rep.), Wisconsin, by petition will be made in Wisconsin after the November election, the newspaper editor who started the first, unsuccessful attempt said yesterday.

Leroy Gore of Sauk City, Wis., told a luncheon club that the decision to renew the attempt was made after the election defeat this week of Sauk county District Attorney Harland Kelley, described by Gore as a "McCarthy man."

"Kelley lost in 42 precincts, and there are only 42 precincts in the county," Gore said. "He ran against a young attorney whom he had previously defeated 4 to 1. This is significant, because this is a rural Republican county where you would expect McCarthy to have his greatest strength. Wisconsin apparently has changed its mind."

Gore is founder and executive secretary of the Joe Must Go Club, Inc. Earlier this year his organization failed to get the 403,000 names required on petitions to seek to recall McCarthy.

TOWN IS HIRED TO COLLECT WOOD BLOWN BY HURRICANE

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Me., Sept. 18 (AP)—From 3000 to 5000 cords of pulpwood washed up on the sands of this ocean resort became a blessing in disguise. It was part of 40,000 cords that broke out of a boom about 100 miles away during hurricane Edna.

The paper company that lost the wood offered yesterday to pay the town $5 a cord to collect the logs and stack them. The town promptly accepted and Herman Merrill, head of the highway department, said: "We'll probably make enough to offset our hurricane damage losses and probably a little more."

1945 ATOMIC BOMB VICTIM DIES OF RADIATION INJURIES

TOKYO, Sept. 18 (UP)—Reports from Hiroshima today said a restaurant owner died there yesterday of injuries to his circulatory system caused by the atomic bomb attack nine years ago.

Hideo Yoshimoto had been in a coma at the Red Cross hospital since Sept. 16. A hospital spokesman said Yoshimoto, had been suffering from high blood pressure but his death was due to atomic radiation. He was 51 years old.

Yoshimoto was reported to have been rowing a boat in a river about one mile from the blast center on Aug. 6, 1945.

TYPHOON CROSSES HONSHU; 6 DIE, 5 MISSING, 16 HURT

TOKYO, Sept. 19 (Sunday) (AP)—Japanese police listed six dead, five missing and 16 injured today as a weakening typhoon blew north across the main island of Honshu. Thousands of homes were flooded.

The maritime safety board reported 45 persons missing after heavy seas swamped many small boats but the figure may be cut down later.

It was the second typhoon to strike Japan this week. The earlier one caused 81 deaths.

CHINESE REDS OPEN PORT OF DAIREN TO JAP SHIPS

TOKYO, Sept. 18 (AP)—Red China has opened the port of Dairen, Manchuria, to Japanese ships and trading interests here hope four more Communist ports soon will be opened, Kyodo news service said today.

Kyodo said shippers have asked the Japan-China trade promition council to ask Red China's Export and Import Corp. to open Tsingtao, Canton, Hwang Poo and Hainan.

U.S. ARMY DENIES REPORT CZECHS CAPTURED AGENT

Says Lieutenant Was in Civilian Clothes, Not on Way on Espionage Mission.

MARKTREDWITZ, Germany, Sept. 18 (AP)—Bavarian border police said today they believe one of two United States Army men captured yesterday by Czech frontier guards was an officer in civilian clothes on his way behind the Iron Curtain on an espionage mission. The Army said it was not so.

"The soldier in question was a lieutenant," a United States Army spokesman at Heidelberg said. "He was in civilian clothes. He was not on way to Czechoslovakia and he did not carry forged credentials. The lieutenant was in civilian clothes because as an interrogation officer he must interview German civilians on this side of the border. His duties are not covert. He is well known along the border."

Bavarian border police said earlier that according to their own reports: (1) The two Americans were captured inside Czechoslovakia, (2) one was a lieutenant in civilian clothes en route to Czechoslovakia on an espionage mission and (3) he was carrying forged credentials.

The two Americans were "presumably apprehended" by Czech border guards while on a routine patrol, the Army said last night in announcing the incident. It said a third member of the patrol, who was some distance away at the time, reported that his two companions were "taken by surprise by the Czech guards who came upon them from the rear."

The names of the three Americans—two of them uniformed enlisted men—were withheld pending completion of the Army's investigation.

This was the third German border incident in nine days.

A Communist East German border patrol fired on American troops on Sept. 9 and four days later a Czech border patrol did the same thing. No one was injured. All three incidents took place in the general area of Hof.

The Army announcement said the two captured were reported to have been "well inside the United States zone border" when they were picked up.

Bavarian police here said they understood the two Americans, both equipped with bnioculars, were "on Czech soil" at the time they were taken into custody.

The German police said that they were informed by Czech frontier officials that the two Americans were in custody and that their case would be taken up with the United States Embassy in Prague.

The duty officer at the American Embassy in Prague told the Associated Press by telephone today that "we have not yet been officially informed of the case.

"We did hear an American newscast of the incident but that is all we know."

BIGGER PLANS FOR GRAND CENTRAL TERMINAL SITE

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 18—A second plan for construction of a tall office building on the site of the Grand Central terminal in New York is under consideration by the New Haven Railroad and the New York Central, Patrick B. McGinnis, president of the New Haven Railroad, said here yesterday.

The first plan, to build a 1600-foot building, the tallest in the world, was announced last week in New York by Robert R. Young, chairman of the board of the New York Central. Suggested by William Zeckendorf, president of the real estate firm of Webb & Knapp, it would cost $100,000,000. The New York Central owns 70 per cent of the terminal, the New Haven 30 per cent.

McGinnis, speaking at a luncheon of the New Haven Chamber of Commerce, said that the second design, which calls for a 50-story building twice as wide as that envisioned by Zeckendorf, has been made by Alfred Fellheimer and Steward Wagner, architects and engineers. Fellheimer was associate architect of the present Grand Central terminal, which was built in 1904.

NEW TRIAL DATE FOR 3 IN RACKETS CASE CONSIDERED AFTER HUNG JURY

Federal Panel Unable to Agree in Hearing of AFL Men Accused of Extorting $6000 From Contractor.

The United States Attorney's office was evaluating the remaining labor racketeering cases today to determine when the trial of three AFL business agents, which ended yesterday in a hung jury, will be rescheduled.

A mistrial was declared by United States District Judge Roy W. Harper after the jury of 11 men and one woman had deliberated more than 11 hours without being able to reach a verdict in the trial of George E. Seaton, Carl J. (Dutch) Bianchi and Lawrence A. Thompson, who were charged with violating the Federal Anti-Racketeering Act.

The jury, which received the case Thursday afternoon, had been refused a transcript of testimony given by contractor Myrl Rumsey, the chief Government witness, several hours earlier because of an objection raised by defense attorney Morris Shenker. They continued deliberations then until late afternoon.

Judge Questions Foreman.

Judge Harper summoned the jurors to his courtroom and asked the foreman, Edwin A. Paradoski, 7344 Melrose avenue, University City, if he thought a verdict could be reached. The foreman replied he did not think so.

Asked if he thought more time would help, Paradoski, a certified public accountant, replied: "It is my sincere opinion it would not help."

Declaring that the jury appeared hopelessly deadlocked, Judge Harper thanked the members for their services and discharged them. He summoned Government and defense attorneys to the bench to discuss resetting the case, but no decision was reached after a brief consultation.

Members of the jury refused to discuss how they voted on the guilt or innocence of the defendants.

Bianchi, outstate representative of the Hoisting Engineers' Union, and Thompson, former business agent of a Cape Girardeau (Mo.) Teamsters' local, remained in custody and will be returned to the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan. They previously have been convicted twice of racketeering. Bianchi is serving terms totaling 22 years and Thompson 20 years.

Seaton, business agent of Local 562, Steamfitters' Union, remained at liberty on bond.

$6000 Extortion Charged.

The three men were charged with interfering with interstate commerce by extorting $6000 from the Rumsey Pipeline Construction Co., of Wichita, Kan., while that firm was building two natural gas loop lines near Boonville, Mo., and Bowling Green, Mo., in May 1951.

Myrl Rumsey, head of the company, was the chief Government witness and his testimony about the demand and payoff of the money was not corroborated by any other witness.

A fourth defendant, Lawrence Callanan, former boss of the steamfitters' union, was dismissed from the case Tuesday when Judge Harper directed a verdict of acquittal. The judge declared the Government had offered insufficient evidence of Callanan's connection with the case.

Callanan, under sentence of 12 years in another racketeering case, remained in city jail pending an appeal.

GROCERY ROBBED OF $150

A grocery operated by Sam Brilliante, at 2426 Marcus avenue, was robbed of $150 yesterday by two men. Brilliante's wife, Goldie, was at the cash register annd there was one customer in the store when the holdup men, both Negroes, demanded the money, seized it and ran.

Chicken Joins Ducks in Pond

—Associated Press Wirephoto.

Pullet owned by John Plummer of Chedburgh, England, swims with two ducks on farm pond. Plummer says the pullet, named Esther, was befriended by the ducks after other chickens on the farm made an outcast of it. Plummer says Esther makes out fairly well in the water, climbing on a duck's back when she tires of swimming or is in danger of being waterlogged.

BALLOT BOXES OF 3 PRECINCTS WILL BE OPENED

Grand Jury to Resume Inquiry Into Vote Irregularities Next Tuesday.

The circuit court grand jury will open ballot boxes used in three precincts in the Aug. 3 primary election when it resumes its investigation of vote irregularities next Tuesday, Circuit Attorney Edward L. Dowd said today.

The boxes were ordered opened yesterday by Circuit Judge James F. Nangle at Dowd's request. They were taken to the grand jury room in Municipal Courts Building by William E. Buder, secretary of the Board of Election Commissioners, and board employes in response to a subpena duces tecum ordered issued by Judge Nangle.

When the jury recessed its inquiry without having opened the boxes, they were returned to the vault in the election office for safe-keeping until Tuesday. The boxes are those from Precincts 8 and 11 in Ward 7 and Precinct 21 in Ward 4.

These precincts were among those that gave lopsided majorities to candidates backed by the Democratic machine in the primary. In a subsequent inquiry, the Election Board fired the 18 officials who served in the three precincts.

Shortly after the judge's order was issued, Donald J. Sher, an attorney, appeared to challenge the validity of the statute under which the court acted.

Sher said he represented Julius H. Brooks, 4340 Labadie avenue, a registered voter in Precinct 21 of Ward 4, who objected that opening of the boxes violated secrecy of the ballot.

Sher sought unsuccessfully to get Judge Nangle to suspend his order to give the attorney time to seek a writ of prohibition from the Missouri Supreme Court.

In its inquiry into vote irregularities, the Election Board found that Democratic and Republican judges and clerks in the three precincts divided the primary ballots into piles and counted them. Regulations require that ballots be counted in a single group, with all precinct officials participating.

The Election Board also heard testimony by voters who said they cast ballots for candidates listed on official returns as having received no votes. The witnesses included three voters in Precinct 21, Ward 4; five in Precinct 11 and three in Precinct 8 of Ward 7.

ABC'S OF CRIME DETECTION QUICKLY SOLVE $60 HOLDUP

The ABC's of crime detection were quite enough for quick solution of a filling station holdup in St. Louis county early today.

Robert Harmon, attendant at a station at 2717 Lemay Ferry road, Lemay, reported to the sheriff's office shortly after 3 a.m. that he had been robbed of $60 by a man who fled in an automobile, and he gave the license number.

Deputies checked the book, found the name and address of the person to whom the license was issued, and broadcast the information. Valley Park police heard it and, following through without delay, went to 323 Jefferson avenue, Valley Park, and waited.

In a few minutes Kenneth Lee Gan, who lives there, drove up. Police said he had $60 and a .22 caliber revolver, and readily admitted the holdup, saying it was his first. He is a checker at a meat packing firm.

HOLDUP MAN STEALS $30 FROM MAN AND WOMAN

A holdup man who used a rock to threaten his victims obtained $30 early today from John Kennedy, 5135 Northland avenue, and his companion, Jane O'Connor, 1316 Union boulevard, as they sat in her automobile in front of his home, police reported.

The robber, a Negro, said he also had a knife. After Kennedy handed over $5 and his companion gave up her purse containing $25, both grappled with the man but he escaped.

UNEMPLOYMENT PAYMENTS DECLINE FIFTH WEEK IN ROW

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP) — Joblessness among workers insured for unemployment compensation declined during the week ended Sept. 4 for the fifth straight week to a 1954 low.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security said the total drop by 51,700 to 1,606,300 with about three fourths of the states reporting unemployment declines due to scattered recalls to work in the textile, apparel, food processing and machinery industries.

The fact that some workers have exhausted all the benefits to which they were entitled though still unemployed served to reduce the figures too, the bureau said.

Initial claims for unemployment compensation declined by 19,600 to 248,800 during the week ended Sept. 11 with 41 states reporting declines, the largest being in California, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

A short reporting week, due to closing local employment offices on Labor day, helped to reduce the load in some states.

POLICEMAN WORSE AFTER TRIP TO DOCTOR, HIS AUTO STOLEN

Patrolman Frank Gallagher of the Traffic Division felt ill yesterday so he parked his automobile at Grand boulevard and Natural Bridge avenue and paid his doctor a visit. When he came out he felt even worse—his machine was missing.

As Gallagher was reporting the theft to a police dispatcher, a scout car came on an abandoned automobile in the 1900 block of Palm street. When the dispatcher told Gallagher the two descriptions matched he began to feel better and rushed to the Palm street address to recover his automobile. It was his all right, but it was somewhat the worse for wear.

Police later arrested a 15-year-old boy who admitted taking the machine "to have a joy ride." The youth said he was driving it on the wrong side of the street when he smashed into another machine, fled from the scene of the accident and then abandoned the automobile.

BELLEVILLE WOMAN WINS $5000 IN SOAP FIRM CONTEST

Mrs. Kenneth L. Pyatt, Belleville housewife, yesterday topped a career of winning contests by receiving second prize of $5000 in a competition sponsored by Lever Brothers Co., a soap manufacturer.

Wife of a mathematics instructor at Belleville Township High School, Mrs. Pyatt completed a 25-word statement of her reasons for liking a certain soap powder made by the sponsor. A San Francisco woman, winner of the first prize in the nation-wide contest, received her weight in gold or its equivalent —$75,158.

Mrs. Pyatt, a former teacher, began her contest career by winning a $2 prize in a limerick competition while a high school student at Mount Vernon, Ill. She since has won numerous household appliances, furnishings and cash up to $500.

POSTAL EMPLOYES GROUP URGES ACTION ON PAY RISE

A resolution urging early enactment of legislation providing salary increases for postal employes has been adopted by the Allied Postal Employes of St. Louis and Vicinity, it was announced today.

The union, which claims to represent 4800 postal employes in this area, asked that the salary request be based on the financial needs of the workers, taking the increased cost of living since 1939 into consideration, as well as the "employes increased productivity."

In adopting its resolution, the union called attention to President Eisenhower's Aug. 25 veto of a bill which would have increased salaries of postal and federal employes by 5 per cent.

SHOOTS WIFE, HER ESCORT

Earl Robinson, 24 years old, a laborer, 4600 block of Russell avenue, East St. Louis, was arrested last night after he shot and seriously wounded his estranged wife and her escort near Seventeenth street and Broadway, East St. Louis.

Mrs. Louise H. Robinson, 17, of 10 North Sixteenth street, East St. Louis, was shot in the left side and Walter Mayhorn, 22, a laborer, 15 North Fifteenth street, East St. Louis, received wounds of the stomach and right side. All are Negroes.

TERMS CENSURE REPORT LIKELY IN NEXT WEEK

Johnson Thinks Senate Should Not Act on It Until After Elections, However.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP) —Senator Edwin C. Johnson (Dem.), Colorado, said today he looks for an early Senate committee report—perhaps by the middle of next week—on censure charges against Senator McCarthy (Rep.), Wisconsin.

However, Johnson, vice chairman of a special committee that has been studying those charges, said he feels the Senate should wait until after the November elections before tackling the matter.

"October will not provide a wholesale atmosphere for decision of such a question," Johnson said in an interview. He added that he doubted "calm, considered judgment" of the issue would be possible in the heat of an election campaign.

In advance of a closed-door meeting of the committee, Chairman Watkins (Rep.), Utah, declined to say whether he agreed with Johnson's forecast of the timing of a report. He has said he was aiming for an Oct. 1 deadline.

Senator Ervin (Dem.), North Carolina, another committee member, said he hopes the report on the censure case can be completed by mid-week, but he declined to discuss the matter further.

Hearings Ended Monday.

The committee of three Democrats and three Republicans last Monday finished nine days of public hearings on the censure charges which Senator Flanders (Rep.), Vermont, initiated in the closing days of the recent congressional session.

Flanders called on the Senate to censure McCarthy for what Flanders contended was conduct unbecoming a Senator and tending to bring the Senate into disrepute.

Subsequently, he and Senators Fulbright (Dem.), Arkansas, and Morse (Ind.), Oregon, filed 46 partly overlapping charges to support the censure resolution. The committee then culled these to 13 which it grouped under five general headings. Testimony was taken on these five groups of charges.

Flanders last night made public a letter to Watkins in which he wrote that McCarthy had attacked other Senators "in vulgar and base language impunging the integrity and loyalty of individual Senators and degrading the dignity of the Senate as an institution of American public life."

Flanders contended McCarthy has undertaken "a deliberate campaign to discredit and if possible drive from public life all those Senators who dare to criticize (him)."

McCarthy's office said he was not available for comment.

Deals With Two Charges.

Flanders's letter was dated Sept. 10 and he said it was sent pursuant to the commitee's announcement that it would receive information informally to help it in its investigation.

The Flanders letter dealt with two of the charges—that McCarthy allegedly had ridiculed and defamed his colleagues and that he allegedly used "distortion and innuendo to attack the reputations" of other prominent citizens such as former President Truman, Attorney eGneral Herbert Brownell and Gen. George C. Marshall.

Flanders said McCarthy's statements about fellow Senators ranged from "calling Senators liars to labeling them as dishonest men and men who would shield and protect traitors."

The Vermonter said he intentionally omitted from his charges against McCarthy mention of remarks he said the Wisconsin Senator made about him. Flanders said these remarks were "so absurd as to be harmless."

Called Flanders 'Senile.'

When McCarthy testified before the Watkins committee, he did not dispute that he had described Flanders as "senile" or that he had said he thought a man with a net should take Flanders "to a good quiet place." Rather, McCarthy said Flanders had been rougher on him and had likened him to Hitler.

WELLSTON FACES FULL INQUIRY BY NEXT GRAND JURY

Judge in County Says He Will Tell New Jurors to 'Clear Up Situation.'

The September term grand jury in St. Louis county will be instructed to complete an investigation of conditions in Wellston which were criticized yesterday by a third consecutive grand jury, Circuit Judge Douglas L. C. Jones said today. He will impanel the next jury late this month.

In its final report to Circuit Judge Fred E. Mueller at Clayton yesterday, the May term jury asserted the management of Wellston's municipal affairs was lax because of failure of the governing officials to have the city's books audited periodically by certified public accountants.

Previous grand juries had criticized the management of the municipality and termed law enforcement there "shocking."

Judge Jones said he will instruct the next jury to make a "complete" investigation of conditions in Wellston "to clear up the situation one way or another."

"I can't understand why three grand juries have passed the buck and left the investigation incomplete," the judge said.

Mayor Leo J. Hayes of Wellston denied the charge of laxity in a statement issued today. He said audits of the city's books have been made annually since 1950 and have shown no discrepancies. He accused the last three grand juries of having "failed and neglected" to make a careful inquiry into affairs of his municipality before critizing and condemning municipal officials.

Judge Jones said he also will instruct the jury to investigate reports which have reached him that some of tht candidates in the Aug. 3 primary elections spent funds in excess of the maximum amount permitted for campaign purposes to win nominations.

The jury also will be directed to inquire into allegations brought out in the recent hearings in connection with the pending ouster suit against Sheriff Arthur C. Mosley that a St. Louis county midwife paid $1500 to a deputy sheriff to avoid prosecution for having performed an illegal operation.

The May term grand jury reported it had invited testimony from persons who felt they might have been defrauded in connection with FHA loans for home construction or improvements, but that none came forward to testify.

Recommendations contained in the report included: Wrecking of the old county jail building adjoining the courthouse and establishment of a parking lot on the site; microfilming of records in the Recorder of Deeds office; provision of permanent quarters for grand juries, and consideration of air conditioning the entire courthouse.

ESTATE OF CARL F. SETZ SR. APPRAISED AT $2,055,733

The estate of Carl F. Setz Sr., retired chemist and rare book collector, was valued for state inheritance tax purposes at $2,055,733 in an appraiser's report filed yesterday in Probate Court.

Mr. Setz, who died Nov. 7, 1952, had retired as a chemist for the St. Joseph Lead Co. in 1929. His principal holdings were 32,901 shares of the common stock of that company which were assigned only a nominal value in the inventory of the estate.

He lived at 265 Union boulevard and maintained an office at 418 Olive street. Mrs. Setz died April 16, 1953.

RAILROAD SWITCHMAN KILLED IN FALL UNDER LOCOMOTIVE

John C. Moore, a Terminal Railroad switchman, was killed yesterday when he fell under a moving locomotive near the intersection of Oxford and Big Bend boulevards in Maplewood. He was 65 years old and lived at 4419 Rosalie avenue.

A fellow employe said his foot slipped as he was climbing on the front of the engine when tswiching freight cars. It was necessary to lift the locomotive with a crane before the body could be removed.

SAVINGS AND LOAN FIRM ROBBED OF $688 BY TWO

The Pulaski Savings and Loan Association, 1505 Cass avenue, was robbed of $688 yesterday by two men who entered when Mrs. Sophie Burdzy, the secretary-treasurer, was in the office alone.

Both were Negroes. One of them said he wanted to start a savings account, then pointed a pistol at Mrs. Burdzy and demanded the money from the cash drawer. She handed it over, and the robbers ran.

WOMAN HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

Miss Ruby Foley, of 1011 Bates street, was struck by an automobile yesterday as she was leaving a grocery in the 3700 block of South Grand boulevard. She suffered a broken leg and was taken to City Hospital.

A clerk who was carrying groceries for her, Thomas Zimmerman, of 4432 South Thirty-ninth street, suffered minor injuries. Police reported the car was driven by Vernon C. Black, 2216 South Ninth street.

Mothers of Maryland Heights Pupils Organize Traffic Squad

Group to Protect Children on Way to and From School Formed After One Child Is Killed, Another Hurt.

Mothers of Maryland Heights school children, aroused by the death of one child Thursday night and the serious injury of another yesterday in traffic accidents, organized yesterday to protect their youngsters on their way to and from school.

To be known as the Mothers' Protective Group, the organization was formed at a meeting in the school with Superintendent G. E. Dille of the Maryland Heights School District. Representatives of the sheriff's office and the office of the constable for the Second District also attended.

Calls for the meeting went out promptly after Daniel Hoskins, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hoskins, 111 Cumberland avenue, was struck by an automobile on his way to school yesterday. He suffered a fractured skull.

Child Hit, Killed.

The accident followed by less than 24 hours the death of Pamela Sue Scarlett, 2, who was struck and killed in front of her home at 426 Dorsett road as she ran across the street to greet her mother, Mrs. Lois Scarlett, on her return from work.

After the election of Mrs. Ben W. Pilgram, 218 Harding avenue, as president, about 15 mothers agreed to start patrolling eight important intersections near the school when classes were dismissed in the afternoon. They planned to continue guarding the crossings morning and evening for an indefinite period.

A course of instruction in traffic control and direction will be given the mothers by representatives of the constable's office and they plan to wear distinguishing caps for identification purposes.

An unofficial group, the mothers had sought to be sworn in as deputy sheriffs but a spokesman for the sheriff told them this would not be feasible. He suggested they obtain the license numbers of speeders and other violators and report them to the sheriff or constable.

One Patrol Car in Area.

The spokesman said the sheriff's office maintains one patrol car in the Maryland Heights area at present. He promised an attempt would be made to send a second car into the neighborhood in the morning and evening periods when the youngsters are on the street to assist the mothers and watch for speeders.

A delegation of parents plan to attend the next meeting of the St. Louis County Council on Wednesday to demand the assignment of more deputies to the area for the protection of school children. The County Traffic Commission will be asked to consider installation of more school crossing caution signs.

Another meeting will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Maryland Heights High School, to perfect the organization and discuss further safety measures. The high school is on Shumate road about one block north of Dorsett road.

The Scarlett child was playing in her front yard when a neighbor who drove Mrs. Scarlett home stopped across the street. As the child ran out she saw a lumber truck approaching and turned back, but the driver, John E. Yancey, 2382 Addie street, Overland, was unable to avoid hitting her. He is an employe of the Harris Lumber Co. of Overland.

Mrs. Scarlett, who lives with her father, Walter Whiteman, has another daughter, Vicky, 5.

Young Hoskins was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Frieda Ann Mills of Maryland Heights. Sheriff's deputies said she told them the youngster ran in front of her machine in the 300 block of Harding avenue.

Superintendent Dille said a schoolboy safety patrol will be started next week.

FAVORS CLOSING GAP IN EIGHT-HOUR LAW

Secretary of Labor to Seek Overtime Pay in Construction Industry.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18 (AP) —Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said yesterday he would recommend to Congress that federal laws be amended to require payment of time and one-half for work in excess of 40 hours a week and eight hours a day in the construction industry.

"During the past year I became aware of serious gap in the eight-hour law," Mitchell told the AFL's building trades and construction department, meeting here prior to the AFL convention next week.

"Apparently there is nothing to prevent a contractor from working his employes seven eight-hour days, or a total of 56 hours, in a week without the payment of overtime compensation.

"Of course, some construction activities are covered by the fair labor standards act which requires the payment of overtime compensation for hours worked in excess of 40 per week. But this is not true of all construction, or even the greater part of it."

Favors Apprenticeship.

Discussing apprenticeship and "its value in promoting the training of skilled craftsmen," Mitchell said neither the building trades nor the Department of Labor have made adequate efforts to sell an apprenticeship program to Congress. In the months to come "we must sell this program," he said.

Mitchell defended the Administration's labor policy, but a high AFL officer scored it as "opposed to the principles of organized labor."

"If the beneficial effects of labor statutes are to be preserved," Mitchell said, "they must be administered without fear or favor. There is no more effective way of inviting destructive amendments to a good law than to be subject to the charge of biased administration."

AFL Man Takes Exception.

William F. Schnitzler, AFL secretary-treasurer, told the convention:

"Administration spokesmen like Secretary Mitchell are going around the country saying the Administration is pro-labor, but it has actually proved itself to be anti-labor and opposed to the principles of organized labor."

Schnitzler said the Administration had passed "a rich man's tax bill, scuttled the federal housing program and packed the NLRB with anti-labor people."

STUDENT IN AUTO STABBED AFTER DISPUTE AT STOPLIGHT

Robert Pisoni, 19-year-old student of 1928A Marconi avenue, was stabbed in the chest and abdomen early today when the automobile in which he was a passenger stopped for a traffic light at Kingshighway and Magnolia avenue.

Pisoni's unidentified assailant was one of two men riding in another machine, also northbound on kingshighway and halted at the same signal. As the cars approached the intersection, police were told, the men began berating Pisoni and Frank Ferrara, 5629 Potomac street, who was driving.

The machine came to a stop and the man jumped out, rushed to the side where Pisoni was sitting, grappled with him and knifed him, officers reported. Ferrera drove Pisoni to Missouri Pacific Hospital, where he was in serious condition.

DIES AFTER DRINKING POISON

Charles Wormington, 3101 Quiet lane, Breckenridge, died yesterday a few minutes after drinking from a bottle containing poison, police reported.

Wormington's wife told police her husband went to the basement and when he returned told her he had taken poison. He collapsed and was dead on arrival at St. Louis County Hospital.

Wormington, 63 years old, formerly was a bus driver. She said he had been despondent and was under a physician's care for an eye ailment and a nervous disorder.

5 FOURTH WARD VOTE OFFICIALS ARE DISCHARGED

They Refuse to Testify at Board Inquiry on Complaint Over Ballot Counting.

Five officials of the Thirtieth Precinct of the Fourth Ward were discharged yesterday by the Board of Election Commissioners "for refusing to co-operate" with the board in its inquiry into a complaint that the ballots in the Aug. 3 primary election were not accurately counted.

The officials refused to testify yesterday at a hearing conducted by the board after their attorney, Maurice Schechter, charged that the board's proceeding was illegal.

He said that if there was any charge against the individuals the board was required by law to state it in writing. If specific charges were made, he said he would advise the officials to testify.

Names of Fired Officials.

Those dismissed when they refused to testify were: Joseph P. Keegan, 3737 Cottage avenue, and Kathryn Alvey, 4665 North Market, Democratic judges; Mary T. Menke, 4632 Kennerly avenue, Democratic clerk; Mrs. Etta Jefferson, 4247 Cottage avenue, Republican judge, and Mrs. Jean G. Mitchum, 4359 Cote Brilliante avenue, Republican clerk.

The sixth official, Miss Josephine P. J. Brown, 1910 North Taylor avenue, a Republican judge, testified that the vote as certified by the polling place officials was a "true and correct count."

The inquiry was undertaken by the board when Mrs. Allen G. Allen, an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Representative, Sixteenth District, complained that she had received no votes on the official tally from the precinct. She produced three witnesses who said they voted for her in that precinct.

Miss Brown told the election commissioners she saw no votes cast for Mrs. Allen and that as far as she knew the official tally was correct. The vote in the precinct was very light. Only 26 Democratic and six Republican ballots were cast.

Because of a throat ailment which affected her voice, she gave her testimony and answered questions in writing.

Dismissal Vote.

The vote to dismiss the five officials was 3 to 1. Commissioner Daniel J. Nack said he too believed charges should have been specified. "I don't object to the discharge of the individuals if there is evidence of any violation," he said, "and I move we notify them to appear here to answer specific charges before we miss them." His motion was not seconded and Nack voted against the dismissal.

The board referred to the Circuit Attorney "for resolution" the conflict of testimony between the three voters who said they had voted for Mrs. Allen and Miss Brown, who said the tally showing no votes for Mrs. Allen was correct.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

They Saw China

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Under the title, "They Saw China —But How Much?"—on the editorial page of the Post-Dispatch I read the following statement: "Dr. Edith Summerskill, only woman member of the touring party, said the infant mortality rate now was only 4 per cent, 'and it used to be 20 per cent.' But as proof of this assertion she could only say that the source of her information was the superintendent of a hospital in Canton."

In the United States would we not expect the superintendent of a hospital to have authoritative data about the infant mortality rate in our country? With the possible exception of a few chronic "baby-haters," would not most Americans accept with applause, enthusiasm, and no skepticism at all an announcement by any minor Iranian or Spanish official to the effect that the infant mortality rate in his country had been considerably reduced?

It is true we have no way of verifying objectively the statement made to Dr. Summerskill by the superintendent of a hospital in Canton. Neither, on the other hand, has a newspaper of stature any business flatly debunking that statement just because we thoroughly disapprove of the kind of government under which the progress is alleged to have been made.

Is not the Post-Dispatch somewhat in the position of having implied that so long as China is dominated by Communism, the infant mortality rate should not, must not, and cannot be reduced?

To come across such a circumscribed point of view on the editorial page of the Chicago Tribune would be no great surprise, but in the Post-Dispatch—for shame!

MRS. ROBERT D. KREIGH.
Columbia, Mo.

Where Does the Money Go?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I am one of those who is taxed without representation as I work in the city, but live in the county.

Even so, I would not object to the earning tax, and I think lots of others wouldn't either, if someone would let us know what the $8,000,000 collected last year was used for.

The city officials keep working their heads off trying to get people to vote for the tax when all that would be necessary would be an account of the funds to show the people that the money was well spent.

Let us know where our money is going and maybe the tax will pass.

BELIEVER IN FAIR PLAY.

Who's Arrogant Now?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Senator McCarthy calling Gen. Zwicker "arrogant" is really something—worse even than the pot calling the kettle black. A. BRADY.
Bushnell, Ill.

In-Between and Jobless

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

State Republican Chairman Perry Compton has charged Gov. Phil M. Donnelly with juggling unemployment figures. Regardless of the accuracy of the figures, this unemployment situation is very serious, and if it isn't checked at once, can only lead to another depression.

I'm speaking from experience, as I'm among the unfortunate jobless and to make matters worse, I'm over the ripe old age of 40 and it's next to impossible to obtain work at that decrepit age.

If by some miracle a job is available, you won't be hired at that age; it's not so much the fault of the employer, as it is the insurance companies clamping down on age, regardless of a man's skill and experience.

So to solve the jobless problem for us old folks of 40 and over, why not make us eligible at 40 for old-age pensions, instead of 65?

Too old to hire—too young to retire. HOPELESS.

Proof on Page One

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Thanks so much for printing your news story of the Maine election on the front page. It proved you were not one-sided. TOM McHUGH.

Day's Pay for Torture

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I have just read the Veteran's letter to the editor regarding "Treatment for Germany." If he thinks that is something, I suggest that he read the peace treaty with Japan that the Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, agreed to on Sept. 5, 1951.

In my opinion the Secretary sold us former P.O.W.s of Japan down the river.

The Japanese Government stated the desire to transfer certain assets to this country to indemnify us for the torture and other hardships we suffered.

However, the Secretary of State rejected such an offer and then stated that we former P.O.W.s had received substantial bonuses to compensate us for the three-and-one-half years we were under Japan's rule of punishment day and night, thus meaning the $2.50 per day was sufficient.

My bet is my life to a dollar that the Secretary of State wouldn't hold still for such a very very small payment if he had endured such tortures and starvation. I weighed 83 pounds when liberated.

A VETERAN AND FORMER P.O.W. OF JAPAN.

The 'Comics' Clean House

With the F.B.I. reporting a 7.9 per cent rise in crimes committed by youngsters under 18—compared with a 14 per cent drop in Great Britain during the same 12 months—"comic" book publishers are beginning to see the light. They are beginning to clean house.

It would be unfair to blame each and every shocking juvenile offense on these shudder-starting picture-books. Certain television and radio programs are hardly wholesome entertainment for the young—or the old. Hollywood has sometimes stooped low for a quick dollar. And there is more parental irresponsibility than ever. Yet all over the country, most of the blame has been attached to the "comics."

When she was recently elected president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Theodore Chapman of Jerseyville, Ill., said that she would devote her term in office to a crusade against these corrupting publications. The congressional committee investigating juvenile delinquency—of which Missouri's Senator Hennings has been an active member—also denounced them. Margaret Culkin Banning was only one of the earlier mobilizers of the campaign of the women's magazines. And many local groups—sometimes acting unwisely through the police—are in arms.

So the Comics Magazine Association, which represents about 75 per cent of the publishers, has drawn up a "code of ethics" and hired a "czar." He is former New York Magistrate Charles F. Murphy, long active in youth betterment work.

He can do much to end this scandal if given real authority. That he will have such power is suggested by announcements from two publishers that they are already dropping their objectionable magazines even though Mr. Murphy is not assuming his duties until Oct. 1.

It is to be hoped that this plan of self-discipline will succeed. Failure would surely lead to even more drastic police censorship than has been attempted so far. The undesirable aspects of such surveillance are all too obvious. Americans are allergic to precedents for a perhaps ever-widening public authority over publications. But many are willing to take a chance on such a possibility for an immediate clean-up of filth.

Since it would be a paradoxical mockery to defend these "comics" under the First Amendment, their publishers actually have an obligation not only to themselves but also to every form and branch of publishing.

10 Cents Out of a Dollar

The Bulletin of the St. Louis Medical Society contains information that will be of interest to housewives who frequently answer the ring of a solicitor at the front door. Under the heading, "Missouri Amvets Get 10%, Promoters Get 90%," it reads as follows:

> The Better Business Bureau of St. Louis warns against phone solicitation to buy household products such as vanilla extract, furniture polish, etc., for the alleged benefit of World War II and Korean Veterans.
>
> The Missouri Amvets Foundation has a contract with this soliciting organization which permits the use of its name in these efforts for 10% of the gross proceeds.
>
> The promoters, therefore, get 90%, an outrageous injustice to our Veterans and a shameful deception of the public.

Idea Dropped in Collinsville

The Collinsville Herald, whose publisher, former State Senator James O. Monroe, is known over Illinois for his vigorous column, "The Two-Edged Sword," celebrates its seventy-fifth birthday with a 42-page issue of historical and civic articles and news.

Of all the contributions perhaps the one potentially most significant is by Collinsville's young Mayor, Louis Jackstadt, a former newsboy for the paper. Mr. Jackstadt, who taught government courses at St. Louis University for several years, says that he believes his community "has evolved into a new phase of growth and is now ready for the Council-City Manager form of government." Then says the Mayor: "It is my sincere hope that during our newspaper's seventy-fifth year we will see that form considered and adopted by our people."

This recommendation is a distinct credit to Mayor Jackstadt. All too often citizens and taxpayer groups, working for improved services efficiently and economically administered, find it necessary to battle the incumbent Mayor in obtaining adoption of the City Manager plan.

Webster Groves and Ferguson recently joined University City as City Manager communities on the St. Louis side of the river. If Collinsville now proceeds to join Wood River, the form of city government that gives citizens professional, full-time vigilance over their municipal affairs will be well-established in the St. Louis area.

Two News Items

At the head of one of its Financial Page columns Friday the Post-Dispatch reported a decrease of 6.6 per cent since six months ago in the net sales of the May Department Store Co., operators of Famous-Barr. Net earnings stood at 45 cents per share of common stock, compared with 62 cents last year.

Close to this report came an Associated Press dispatch from Atlantic City, announcing that Secretary of Commerce Weeks is "extremely optimistic" about business. "We're doing all right," he says, "and we're going to do better."

British Stubbornness and Cyprus

The Mediterranean's ancient little island of Cyprus, over which Greeks, Phoenicians, Persians and Egyptians fought many centuries ago, has become a serious problem for the troubled world of today. The British, who have held it as a Crown colony since World War I, declare they must retain the island in order to convert it into their main military base in the Near East. But 80 per cent of the 500,000 inhabitants are Greeks and they have shown by plebiscite that they want "enosis" or reunion with Greece. The Greek government backed them and last month asked the United Nations to intervene in the dispute.

The island, 3572 miles square, lies in the northeastern corner of the Mediterranean about 50 miles south of Turkey and 75 west of Syria. It is strategically located and the British say they need it to take the place of the Suez which they are about to evacuate. But, since the British gave up Suez with the comment that it was of little value as a base in the day of the H-bomb, it would seem that Cyprus too might be overshadowed by the H-bomb. Perhaps British pride and stubbornness have much to do with the desire to retain this Crown colony.

The British governor of the island erred grievously when he set up a new anti-sedition law making it a crime to publish demands for enosis or even to criticize government policy. This is just the kind of situation that Soviet Russia is expert in exploiting to the limit. All that Russia has to do is to cite the facts and repeat over and over that self-determination is the right of all colonial peoples. And there are Communists active on Cyprus.

If Britain would let the Cypriots have enosis, or would at least allow the matter to be settled by the U.N., the Kremlin propaganda bureau would be forestalled and good relations restored between Greece and Britain, both of whom are members of NATO.

False Economy on a Weather Ship

False economy has come home to roost. The removal of a weather-reporting ship that lay in the path of hurricane Carol undoubtedly led to delay in charting and reporting the course of the storm. The budget paring that led to this dates back to last October. The State Department, without warning, then announced it was abandoning the 7-year-old North Atlantic chain of 10 weather-reporting ship stations which had been of great assistance to ocean and air traffic and had filled a big gap in the international meteorological network.

The Air Line Pilots Association, a union made up of the pilots of all scheduled United States airlines and including those who fly the Atlantic, protested sharply against any cut in the weather ship program. A group of scientists in the Department of Meteorology, New York University, wrote a letter of protest which was printed in the Post-Dispatch. It contained this paragraph:

> The most distressing aspect of the Government's decision is the completeness of our withdrawal from the weather chain. Even ship station H, which lies off the coast of the United States and which is used by meteorologists for forecasting the movement of storms and hurricanes which might affect the east coast of the United States, is to be withdrawn.

The Post-Dispatch objected in three editorials to the proposed withdrawing of the United States from the weather ship network. It pointed out that withdrawal of the United States would wreck the network, result in false economy and endanger lives. Late in December the State Department reversed itself. It got the 14 other nations participating in the network to shoulder more of the cost but it did eliminate station H. Elimination of station H would save $1,000,000 annually, it was estimated.

Eventually hurricane Carol came. After it had wrought its great damage, Herbert Riehl, associate professor of meteorology at the University of Chicago, said in a letter to The New York Times:

> This ship was vital not only for hurricane warnings but also for the prediction of severe winter storms such as that of last November. We might ask for how many years the cost of maintaining the ship would have been paid just from savings resulting from earlier warnings during hurricane Carol.

This sad example of the false economy involved in cutting off just one of the 10 weather-ship stations proves that the State Department's original plan to drop all was a piece of monstrous foolishness.

Behind an Illinois Smear

The Illinois senatorial election is not going to turn one way or the other, we suspect, on the alleged FHA "scandal" which Senator Dirksen's office dug up against Senator Paul H. Douglas. Still, the matter has its interesting aspects, not the least of which is that the alleged "scandal" turned out to be 100 per cent fiction.

The story, published in the Copley newspapers in Joliet, Springfield and Aurora and handed out by Harold Rainville, Senator Dirksen's administrative assistant, was that a Chicago real estate man who is supporting Senator Douglas's re-election had received $1,650,000 "windfall" profit on an FHA-insured apartment building.

No less an authority than Senator Homer E. Capehart, Republican, who presides over the FHA "windfall" investigation, has assured the people of Illinois that no "windfall" profit whatever was involved in this case, and that Senator Douglas had nothing to do with it anyway. This was one FHA loan, in fact, where the amount borrowed under FHA guarantee did not exceed the construction costs, and where the sponsors put up nearly a million dollars of their own.

How could such a totally false smear of a reputable business man and of Senator Douglas get started? That is the most interesting part of the story. The primary source turns out to have been James C. Moreland, district FHA director in Chicago by patronage of Senator Dirksen, who scribbled off a note to the Senator which became the unverified basis for the unverifiable smear.

Two inferences emerge: (1) that the FHA district director in Chicago either does not know, or is willing to disregard, the truth about a major Chicago FHA project; and (2) that Mr. Moreland, who until July 1953 was a Republican ward committeeman in Chicago, has been playing politics in his job, which is supposed to be protected by the Hatch Act against politics-playing.

Managing the Schools

Few serious objections are likely to be raised against School Board President Ehrhardt's proposed rearrangement of the board's committees. Business would continue to be channeled to the board through committee—but by one such group instead of three.

True, the 12-member board may find it somewhat unwieldy sitting as a Committee of the Whole to consider business originating in the system's four autonomous departments—instruction, building, finance and auditing. But this ought to be more than balanced by the gains.

For one thing, the opportunity would be created for all members to be easily informed of the workings of all departments. This is not now the case. For another, the plan may tend to cut the power some members have exercised over certain departments by virtue of their places on committees supervising the work of those departments.

But the most important change that can be made in the structure of the board itself falls solely within the province of the Missouri Legislature. That would be to reduce the number of board members from 12 to perhaps five—or seven, at the most—and specify that they be appointed by the Mayor. A small policy-making group of high quality is clearly preferable to a large body of lesser distinction.

The Legislature can make an even greater contribution by permitting a reorganization of the school system at the operating level. That would be to place responsibility for management of all departments in the hands of one executive who would be responsible to the board. This is the so-called unit control plan that the spoilsmen have succeeded in killing each time it has been offered at Jefferson City.

A small, appointed board supervising and setting policy for a system operated under direction of a single manager, could give St. Louis a school system second to none in the country, and that after all is what the people really want. Every effort should be made next year to pry it out of the Legislature.

How Expressways Affect Values

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Texas study surprisingly shows that property immediately adjacent to Gulf Freeway gained most in value, 24 times as much as land only indirectly accessible; new federal highway law stresses aid to cities; action urged to save central business areas.

David R. Levin of the United States Bureau of Public Roads in American Highways

There are some who would write off the central business sections of our cities as vestigial in the motor vehicle era. Such an appraisal seems to ignore economic realities.

Central business areas were established because they offered economic efficiencies and social and cultural advantages characteristic of a nucleated community. With a proper design, and a restoration of its accessible characteristics, the area can continue to function effectively for a long time to come.

Accessibility, as I refer to it here, concerns the capacity of a motorist or shopper to travel downtown with a minimum "friction of space" as some students of the problem identify the ability to travel safely, conveniently, and at reasonable cost.

Accessibility also includes the availability of parking accommodations, appropriately priced and within reasonable walking distance of the major generators of parking demand.

While there may be other factors present which may complicate an easy solution to the difficulties confronting the central areas of cities, improvement in the accessibility characteristics of those central areas cannot but improve substantially the city's present plight.

It is incumbent upon entrepreneurs, municipal officials and others interested in preserving the urban areas as we now know them that effective action be taken with respect to the timely provision of highway and terminal facilities of modern design.

Some assistance in this direction is now available. In the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1954, emphasis on urban transportation is unprecedented.

The sum of $175,000,000 for each of fiscal years 1956 and 1957 is specifically earmarked for projects on the federal-aid primary highway system in urban areas, and for projects on approved extensions of the federal-aid secondary system within urban areas.

Additionally, portions of $315,000,000 authorized for each of fiscal years 1956 and 1957 for projects on the Federal-aid primary highway stem can be spent in cities. Also, portions of $175,000,000 authorized for each of the two fiscal years for the National System of Interstate Highways will be eligible for expenditure in urban areas. While the expressways program in urban areas thus is gaining momentum, there are still some people who are seeking to learn precisely what economic impact such facilities of modern design will have upon urban land values and its land-use pattern.

In an attempt to document and evaluate such effects, the Texas State Highway Department, with the co-operation of the Bureau of Public Roads, undertook to analyze approximately 2300 bona fide sales of real estate which took place along the Gulf Freeway and also in sections of the city completely removed from its influence.

All sales for the areas studied in each of three periods—1939 to 1941, 1945 to 1946, and 1949 to 1951—were included. The mechanics of analysis were consistent with sound technique.

The results of this study will amaze you: The percentage gain in market values in the primary areas immediately adjacent to the Gulf Freeway (where land increased from $0.65 to $1.44 per square foot) was more than 24 times as great as in the areas only indirectly accessible to the freeway (where land increased from $0.57 to $0.60 per square foot). It was approximately five times as great as in the areas completely removed from the expressway (where land increased from $0.98 to $1.23 per square foot).

The percentage gain in market values in the secondary areas, close to the freeway but not right next to it (where land increased from $0.89 to $1.58 per square foot), was more than 15 times as great as the areas only indirectly accessible to the freeway (where land increased from $0.57 to $0.60 per square foot). It was three times as great as the regions completely removed from the expressway (where land increased from $0.98 to $1.23 per square foot).

Incidentally, a top official of the Texas State Highway Department has recently asserted that if the properties within the zone of influence of the Gulf Freeway were placed on the tax rolls of the City of Houston on the basis of their increased value, the increase in revenue to the city would be sufficient to reimburse the city for its right-of-way contribution of $3,500,000 in a period of only seven years.

Turning the Clock to 1925

From the Rural Electric Missourian

A half million dollars is a lot of money anywhere. In Washington it represents the richest pressure-group lobby at work on the nation's legislators and administrators.

But it is a drop in the bucket compared with the $20,000,000 that the industry represented by this lobby puts into newspaper, magazine, radio, television and pamphleteering propaganda each year.

And that is the way the private power trust lobby is rolling along these days. During only the first three months of 1954, the National Association of Electric Companies collected $439,211.53, compared with $363,236.07 for the first quarter of 1953.

This, and the increasing aggressiveness of the propaganda machine behind the electric company lobby, is being concentrated in an attack on the preference electric co-ops and other non-profit distributors have under federal laws to purchase hydro power produced at government dams.

One of the effects of this high pressure campaign has been evident at the field hearings being held by the Hoover Commission task force on power and resource activities of the Federal Government. Under the chairmanship of Adm. Ben Moreell, chairman of the board of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., some of these hearings have turned into power company circuses.

At both Denver and New York, power company spokesmen were allowed several hours of unrestrained attacks on the rights of preferred customers, and even REA. Rural electric co-op representatives at those meetings were scheduled by Admiral Moreell for testimony during the waning hours of the sessions. Then they were asked to "condense" their testimony—to less than an hour at the New York hearing.

At the Denver hearing, one utility executive urged the commission to recommend legislation that would "return to the policies of 1925" for restricting the federal activities in the power field. The year 1925, of course, was previous to the federal rural electrification program, the Tennessee Valley Authority development, Bonneville, RFC loans for small business, and even Hoover Dam. It was also the days of Insull and Hobson, and the holding company manipulations which private utility executives today candidly admit put them in the public's doghouse for a long time.

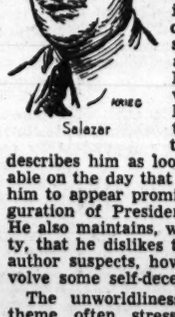
Bashful Dictator

SALAZAR IN PORTUGAL: AN INTIMATE PORTRAIT, by Christine Garnier. (Farrar, Straus & Young, 220 pgs., $3.)

Charles S. Nowell in the Saturday Review.

Near the middle of her book, "Salazar in Portugal: An Intimate Portrait," Christine Garnier explains that the decision to write it was the result of a conversation with a Paris taxi driver. The cabman complained of his inability to understand current politics and laid his failure largely to lack of information regarding the private lives of statesmen. If only, he said, more could be known of their habits and pastimes a proper understanding of world events would be easier. Miss Garnier repeated these remarks to her publisher, who agreed that the driver had a point and sent the young French writer to Portugal to inaugurate a series of political portraits with one of Antonio de Oliveira Salazar.

The book consists of 18 brief chapters, most of them written as dialogues. Together they amount to a biography, although not a very factual one as the principal emphasis is placed on the statesman's thought and character. The portrait is that of a man consistent since boyhood in idea and purpose, conservative yet possessing some liberal traits, and wholly indifferent to his world's vanities. He has the greatest distaste for ostentation; Miss Garnier describes him as looking utterly miserable on the day that protocol compelled him to appear prominently at the inauguration of President Craveiro Lopes. He also maintains, with obvious sincerity, that he dislikes to wield power; the author suspects, however, this may involve some self-deception.



Salazar

The unworldliness of Salazar is a theme often stressed; Miss Garnier feels that it is overstressed. This dictator, who will scarcely admit that he is one, has given Portugal and its colonial empire a strong Government for nearly a generation. In that time he has handled every type of modern politics.

Miss Garnier leaves to others the question of whether Salazar has been good or bad for Portugal. That is her privilege, but she would not have taxed the reader's patience if she had added to this short book a few interviews with Portuguese citizens willing to give forthright opinions concerning the Government. It is to Salazar's credit that such citizens could have spoken freely and without fear.

Valid "Westerns"

PRAIRIE GUNS, by Ernest Haycox. (Little, Brown & Co., 184 pgs., $2.50.)

Despite the standardized front of "Westerns" there are a few writers, however, who have achieved a kind of validity in the field. The late Ernest Haycox was one of them. He knew his West at first hand and wrote a surprising amount of truth about the land and the men and women who pioneered it; he had a deep respect for their code of conduct and their way of life.

"Blizzard," the first in this book of short stories, tells an intensely dramatic tale of Bill Post's fight for survival in a fierce snowstorm and his rescue of an unknown girl far out on the range. "Woman Hungry" is the story of a girl who waits too long to come West and of a man who refuses to run from his enemies. In "The Land that Women Hate," mother and daughter see life differently on a dusty windswept ranch. "Deep Horizon" is a moving account of how Rev. Matt Hobard and his wife Eileen find faith and new strength in the midst of poverty. Ernest Haycox fans will delight in these stories and four others which make up the book.

MISSOURI U. BOARD ELECTS OFFICERS

James A. Finch of Cape Girardeau Named to Succeed Powell McHaney.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept 18 (AP) — The board of curators of the University of Missouri, meeting here yesterday, elected James A. Finch of Cape Girardeau as its president. Finch succeeds Powell B. McHaney of St. Louis.

Lester E. Cox of Springfield was named vice president to succeed Dr. Glenn Hendren of Liberty.

The secretary of the board, Leslie Cowan, was relieved of his duties. McHaney said the action was taken at Cowan's request. Cowan, who has served as secretary for 34 years, will continue as vice president of the university in charge of business operations.

Mrs. Mary Robnett of Columbia, an employe of Cowan's office, was named to succeed him as secretary.

The curators, in another action, settled a dispute stemming from a request by the Missouri Farmers Association for the recall of Cal Burgett as Franklin county agent.

A controversy had developed over whether the MFA has a right to ask for the recall of Burgett.

The board, acting on the recomendation of William Elmer, a board member who held a hearing on the matter at Union last week, upheld the dismissal of Burgett and appointed Herbert F. H. Rolf of Columbia to be Franklin county agent. Burgett was transferred to another office.

POPE PIUS XII CONTINUES HEAVY WORK SCHEDULE

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 18 (AP)—Despite his own word that he is not yet fully recovered from last winter's illness, Pope Pius XII continued today his heavy program of work.

This morning the Pontiff held his usual conference at his Castel Gandolfo summer residence with Msgr. Domenico Tardini, Vatican Pro-Secretary of State for Extraordinary Affairs. The audience lasted for about an hour.

The Vatican Secretary of State Office said no other audiences were on the Pope's calendar for today. He usually rests on Saturdays during his stay at Castel Gandolfo.

The Secretary of State Office said the Pontiff has not canceled any audiences, as one report printed abroad said.

Yesterday, at a general audience to members of a medical conference, the 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church told Associated Press reporter Richard Ehrman he is not yet fully recovered.

$288,973 ESTATE LEFT BY WILLIAM J. JENKINS

Value of the estate left by William J. Jenkins, board chairman of the Mutual Bank & Trust Co., who died last Jan. 12, was fixed at $288,973 by a state inheritance tax appraiser in a report filed in probate court yesterday.

Principal items in the estate were stocks, $203,734; cash, $36,236; notes, $21,948, and insurance, $26,114.

In his will Mr. Jenkins, who lived at the Missouri Athletic Club, left one-half of his estate to his son, G. Stuart Jenkins of St. Louis. The other half is to be divided equally between two grandsons, William J. Jenkins II of Pittsburgh and James M. Jenkins of Cleveland. Mr. Jenkins was former president and general manager of the Consolidated Coal Co. of St. Louis.

BRIG. GEN. CARROLL, AIDE TO EISENHOWER, IS DEAD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—Brig. Gen. William P. T. Carroll, one of President Eisenhower's top aids and a World War II comrade, died of a heart attack at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital last night.

James C. Hagerty, Mr. Eisenhower's press secretary, told reporters at Fraser, Colo., that both the President and Mrs. Eisenhower "looked upon Pete as a treasured friend and brilliant associate."

Carroll, who was presidential liaison officer with the Pentagon and White House staff secretary, was stricken with a heart attack last December. He was away from his desk for several weeks. Carroll served under Mr. Eisenhower in Europe during World War II and after the war when the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was being set up. He went to Korea with Mr. Eisenhower after the 1952 election.

DR. ANDREW DARLING DIES; PHYSICIAN AND VETERINARIAN

Dr. Andrew Darling, physician, veterinarian and vice president of the board of the Animal Protective Association of Missouri, died unexpectedly last night at his home, 7110 Clayton road, Richmond Heights. He was 86 years old.

Born in Montreal, Dr. Darling took his degree as a veterinarian at McGill University in 1890. He was graduated from Washington University School of Medicine as an M.D. in 1893. He was formerly board president of the Animal Protective Association.

Dr. Darling had been associated with the protective organization since its founding in 1922, and made daily visits to its shelter at 1705 South Hanley road, Brentwood. He also had offices at his home. Surviving are his wife and a sister, Mrs. Isabella Wade, Los Angeles.

KIRKWOOD CHURCH MARKS CENTENNIAL

First Presbyterian Formed by 7 Charter Members; Today's Membership 2150.

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

First Presbyterian Church of Kirkwood, which is celebrating its centennial, was organized Sept. 24, 1854, in the home of Henry Singleton at what now is the southeast corner of Adams avenue and Dickson street.

There were seven charter members: Henry and Marsena Singleton, Reuben and Rebecca Beman, Robert A. Yeats, William G. Sale and M. Harriet Fenton.

Today the church has 2150 members, more than twice as many as 10 years ago; and of this number, 300 have joined since the Rev. Dr. Donald H. Stewart become pastor Sept. 15 a year ago.

The congregation plans to build a new church at its present location, Adams and Kirkwood road. The present church, which was built 66 years ago, seats only 370 persons, and three services are held every Sunday morning.

The First Church congregation held its early worship services in a little log schoolhouse where Pitman School now stands, at the northeast corner of Adams and Kirkwood. The congregation grew, and a small brick church was built in a beautiful grove of oak trees on the present site. The rear of the grounds was used for a cemetery; later the bodies were removed to Oak Ridge, now Oak Hill Cemetery.

The cornerstone of the present sanctuary was laid Oct. 25, 1888, when the church had 237 members. A new educational building was completed three years ago.

The three living former pastors of First Church will preach tomorrow at centennial services. The Rev. Dr. Marion F. Stuart, 1946-1952, now pastor of Tyler Place Presbyterian Church, will preach at 8 a.m. The Rev. Dr. Ralph D. Evans, 1938-1945, now pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Boulder, Colo., at 9:30 a.m., and at 11 a.m., the Rev. Dr. Henry Little, 1928-1937, now secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., Chicago.

The guest preacher Sunday, Sept. 26, at 11 a.m., will be the moderator of the Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Dr. Ralph Waldo Lloyd, president of Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn.

Deaconess X-ray School Enrolls 18-Year-Old Girl From Honduras

MISS ANA MAGARITA TORRES of San Pedro Sula, Honduras, Central America, being enrolled in the Deaconess Hospital School of X-ray Technology by the REV. PAUL PRELL, pastor of Salvator Evangelical and Reformed Church. SISTER VELMA KAMPSCHMIDT, director of the school, takes the registration. Salvator Church and the hospital will pay the girl's expenses for the two-year course.

Deaconess Hospital School of X-Ray Technology has enrolled an 18-year-old girl from Honduras. She is Miss Ana Margarita Torres. Her father is a printer and her mother a teacher.

She expects to serve in a hospital in her home city of San Pedro Sula after completing the two-year course here. Honduras has a great need of X-ray technicians.

Miss Torres is sponsored by Salvator Church, 5266 Plover avenue, of which the Rev. Paul Prell is pastor. The Rev. and Mrs. Prell went to Honduras this summer to bring the girl back with them. The hospital is not charging tuition or board, and the church provides expense and pin money and pays for uniforms and other clothing.

Miss Torres was recruited for training by Sister Rosadel Albert of Deaconess Hospital who has served for 10 years as a missionary nurse at Concepcion del Norte, in rural Honduras, where alone she conducts a clinic for the Indians. The clinic is a project of the Foreign Missions Board of the Evangelical and Reformed Church. Miss Torres, who is one of seven children, is a member of that church.

She is a high school graduate, having won prizes in English and French and made the school honor roll each year for outstanding scholarship.

CATHEDRAL WILL OPEN FALL INQUIRY FORUM

The fall series of the inquiry forum will open Monday at St. Louis Cathedral. Sessions will be held on Mondays and Thursdays at 8:15 p.m. in the assembly room, which is entered through the east door of the Cathedral rectory, 4431 Lindell boulevard.

The forum will be conducted by the Rev. Francis A Muellner, assistant pastor of the Cathedral.

"This inquiry is intended to be a refresher course for Catholics and to give non-Catholics opportunity to learn more about Catholic beliefs and practices," Father Muellner said.

Non-Catholics as well as Catholics are invited. There will be a question and answer period at each meeting.

CHURCH WILL HONOR 70-YEAR MEMBERS

Bowman Methodist Church to Hold Seventy-Fifth Anniversary Service Sunday.

A man and woman who were present when the first Bowman Methodist Church was dedicated 73 years ago will be honored tomorrow when the church celebrates its seventy-fifth anniversary as a congregation.

Harry K. Kerone of 4893 Calvin avenue was 11 years old, and Mrs. Clare M. Carpenter, 4871 Carter avenue, was 10, when the first Bowman Church was dedicated in 1881 at what now is Twentieth street and Obear avenue; it was then called Water Tower Methodist Church, after the famous landmark at the north end of Grand boulevard. Mrs. Carpenter joined the church in 1885.

Another member of Bowman Church who will be honored tomorrow is Mrs. Edward H. Weitz of 4267 Holly avenue, who joined 68 years ago.

The diamond jubilee service will be held at 10:40 a.m. tomorrow, and the preacher will be Dr. Ralph Lee Woodward, president of Central College, Fayette, Mo. The Rev. J. Ray Trotter is pastor of the church.

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt will speak at another anniversary service at 8 p.m. Wednesday. The speaker Sunday, Sept. 26, will be the Rev. Dr. Herman H. Luetzow, superintendent of the St. Louis district of the Methodist Church.

Organized in 1879, Bowman Church held its first services in a tent in Allen's Grove, on the west side of Broadway, a block south of East Grand. The ground was owned by a Mrs. Allen, who lived in a big house on top of the hill. In 1893 the name of the church was changed to Bowman, in honor of Bishop Thomas Bowman of St. Louis.

In 1906 the congregation built a new church at Grand and Carter. The pipe organ in the new church was one that had been used at the 1904 World's Fair. The church moved to its present location, Athlone and Carter, in 1919. The present church was dedicated by the late Bishop William A. Quayle in 1921.

SERVICES PLANNED BY RETREAT LEAGUE

Women of Cenacle League to Hold Tenth Annual Communion Breakfast Sunday.

The Cenacle Retreat League, whose primary purpose is to spread the retreat movement among Catholic women, will hold its tenth annual communion breakfast tomorrow.

More than 800 women are expected to attend 8 a.m. mass at St. Louis Cathedral, where members of the league will receive communion in a body. After the mass, breakfast will be served at the Sheraton Hotel, and more than 600 members of the league have made reservations.

Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter will attend the breakfast, and the speaker will be the Rev. E. H. Behrmann, director of special education of St. Louis parochial schools, and a popular retreat master. Miss Florence Sweetin is general chairman in charge of the affair.

Members of the retreat league are women who have made retreats at Cenacle Retreat House, Conway and Spoede roads, Frontenac, during the past two years. The league also assists the religious of the Cenacle. The league numbers about 2000 women.

At the breakfast meeting Sunday, the year's activities of the league will be reviewed by its president, Mrs. Bernard A. Concannon.

Bible Film to Be Shown.

The American Bible Society's film, "Our Bible—How It Came to Us," will be given its first showing here at 8 p.m. Wednesday at West Presbyterian Church, 5872 Maple avenue. The showing is sponsored by the men's council of West Church and the Metropolitan Church Federation. The film records the transmission of the Bible and covers 2000 years.

THE REV. DR. WILLIAM F. McGIBNEY who has become pastor of Hanley Road Baptist Church, Clayton. He had been pastor of Memorial Baptist Church, Columbia, Mo., for two years. He is a native of Kentucky, is 43 years old, and was ordained in 1932.

ST. LOUIS CHURCH RECEIVES GIFT FROM KOREA

Grace Methodist Church, Skinker and Waterman boulevards, has received two handwrought brass seven-branched candlesticks from Korea. They are the gift of Brig. Gen. Yang Soo Yoo of the Army of the Republic of Korea and Col. Eads G. Hardaway, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hardaway, live at 5733 Cabanne avenue. They are members of Grace Church.

Because of Col. Hardaway's friendship with Gen. Yoo, Grace Church has sent gifts to Gen. Yoo's family.

Col. Hardaway commands the Thirty-fourth Regiment of the Twenty-fourth Division of the American Army in Korea. He has been in Korea since last December. His wife and two children are living at Greenville, S.C. Col. Hardaway was graduated from West Point in 1937.

CATHOLICS KEEP FALL EMBER DAYS WITH FASTING

Today is the last of three fall "Ember Days" which Catholics must observe as days of fast and partial abstinence. The other days were Wednesday and yesterday. Meat is permitted at the principal meal on the Ember Days of Wednesday and Saturday, but, of course, not on Friday.

"Ember" is an old Anglo-Saxon word meaning a regularly recurring time or season. It is a corruption of a Latin word meaning four times. The Catholic Church introduces with three Ember Days the four seasons of the year—fall, early winter (December), spring and summer. Spring Ember Days fall in Lent. There are variations in the mass liturgy for Ember Days.

Novena Notes, Catholic Journal of Chicago, this week carried a note on Ember Days. "The origin of these days is uncertain. It is generally believed they were set up to offset the pagan customs of the Fifth century in Rome. The Church canonized the pagan customs that prayed for good seeding in December, abundant harvest in June, rich vintage in September. The Church added a fourth time for the Lenten season."

MARCIANO BADLY CUT, BUT KNOCKS OUT CHARLES IN 8TH

CHAMP FLOORS CHALLENGER 3 TIMES TO RETAIN TITLE; EZZ WINS ONLY FIRST ROUND

By W. J. McGoogan
Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—His nose is split and he has a brand new cut in his left eyebrow, but Rocky Marciano of Brockton, Mass., is still heavyweight champion of the world today, after making Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati, his forty-first knockout victim in a string of 47 consecutive victories.

He flattened Charles in 2 minutes, 36 seconds of the eighth round at Yankee Stadium last night before 34,330 customers who paid $352,654 to sit in on the show which had been postponed twice for a total of 48 hours because of rain.

And, while it lasted, it was fighting like the sensational battle the same men put on June 17. Charles, weighing 192½ pounds to 187 for Marciano, fought a fight which indicated that he was interested in making a fair showing but had little hope of winning.

The challenger grabbed and held continually, after the first round, and made it difficult for the champion to fight his fight.

Three Knockdowns by Rocky.

Marciano floored Charles three times.

The first knockdown came in the second round, when Rocky landed a hard right under the heart and Ezzard went down for a count of two.

In the eighth session Rocky waded into Charles and after two minutes clubbed Ezzard to the floor for a count of four.

Additional right hand chops again floored Charles and this time he did not get up until after 10, although it seemed that he would be able to make it because he took most of the count on his knees. He arose immediately after the referee, Al Berl, had finished counting 10.

Charles had been coached before the bout to go into Marciano and take charge. He was told not to back away from the champion. He started out obeying orders and took the first round handily, according to the score cards of the three officials.

But in the second round after the blow to his body for the first knockdown he fought like a man who was only in there to stay as long as he could without being hurt too much and to take the first opportunity to end his agony.

Berl called the first round for Charles and the fifth even. He gave the other six rounds to Marciano. Both judges, Artie Aidala and Frank Forbes, called the first round for Charles and gave the rest to the champion. That was the way the Post-Dispatch score sheet read.

And now Charles insists that he will go on with his boxing career but nobody knows why. Certainly after failing for the third time to win back the heavyweight championship he once held, he can hardly expect another opportunity in the foreseeable future.

Marciano has two prospects for future opponents, one Nino Valdes, Cuban champion and a conqueror of Charles, and Don Cockell, the British heavyweight champion.

Al Weill, manager of Rocky, said he would confer with Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, after Weill returns from California. He and Rocky will fly out today for the champion's appearance on a television program tomorrow night.

Ezzard and His Hopes Go Down

Heavyweight Champion ROCKY MARCIANO heads for a neutral corner after knocking out EZZARD CHARLES in 2 minutes and 36 seconds of the eighth round of championship fight at Yankee Stadium. It was the second bout between the two. Marciano won the first match last June on a decision.

'I Knew I Had Him' After Right To Body in Second, Rocky Says

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—"I hit him a hard right hand under the heart in the second round, he grunted and I knew I had him," said Rocky Marciano after he had finished polishing off Ezzard Charles at Yankee Stadium.

Marciano had been instructed to go right after Ezzard's body in an effort to wear him down and that's what he did. He punished Charles with short blows to the body and every time the challenger countered, Rocky punished him.

The champion sat in his crowded room answering questions after the match and talked of his coming trip to California. He'll leave later today and be on a TV program Sunday night.

"But I'll get back to New York in time for the World Series," he said with a grin.

Rocky insisted that his cut nose was the result of contact with Ezzard's elbow but Charles hotly denied this, saying his blows inflicted the cuts on Rocky's nose and eyebrow.

The champion's friends milled around him with congratulations while Charles sat in his dressing room being consoled by his wife and his managers. Ezzard said he didn't want to say anything which might detract from Marciano's victory.

"He's a real strong fellow, but I still think I can beat him," said Charles.

Ezzard insisted that he would go on fighting and he offered no excuses for his rather poor showing except to say that either the added weight which he carried into the ring with him or something else had slowed him down.

His handlers said that Charles had failed to follow instructions after the first round. He was told that it would be fatal to pull away from the champion, that the way to fight him was to stay in close to Rocky.

"But Ezz started pulling away in the second round and from then on he was nailed by Rocky's blows," his handlers said.

Tom Tannas, co-manager of Charles, was asked if the blow which knocked down Charles in the second round was the decisive punch.

"It undoubtedly had something to do with the ending, but he seemed to shake off the effects of the punch pretty well and we thought he would be all right," Tannas said. "But he wasn't."

FIGHT RESULTS

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK (Yankee Stadium)—Rocky Marciano, 187, Brockton, Mass., knocked out Ezzard Charles, 192½, Cincinnati, (8) (for world's heavyweight title).

WASHINGTON—Willie Troy, 159, Washington, stopped Walter Cartier, 161, Brooklyn (6).

PIAZENZA, Italy—Tiberio Mitri, 161, Italy, outpointed Gaston Meulenbrouck, 159½, France, (10).

Rocky's Nose Split, Eyebrow Also Cut by Charles's Blows

Before Marciano leaves for the coast he's going to have a plastic job done on his split nose. The nose was split in the sixth round. The cut was in the left nosril and extended upward. It bled profusely despite the ministrations of his handlers who put a yellow bandage on the nose at the end of the round. Charles just as promptly knocked the bandage off in the seventh.

Then in the eighth round, the challenger opened a cut in the left eyebrow of Marciano and the champion decided it was time to go in and end things, which he proceeded to do.

The cut in the eyebrow was not a reopening of the old cut which he suffered in the June scrap and which required 10 stitches to close. That one was above the left eyebrow, this one is right in the brow and, no doubt, if the contest had continued would have caused Rocky considerable trouble.

Marciano had been criticized in the first match for hitting Charles low and for striking him after the bell rang ending a round. Last night he was warned for two low blows, two glancing punches which started upward from Ezzard's belt and Rocky also hit Charles after the bell rang a couple of times.

On one occasion, Charles retaliated, hitting Rocky with a righthand after the bell.

But other than those incidents, it was a very clean fight.

Charles Starts Out Strong.

Charles walked out in the first round and proceeded to take charge. He smashed the champion with a good 1-2 and landed a powerful righthand punch toward the end to take the round.

Rocky mauled Charles in the second and Ezzard got in close holding on but was rocked by two hard rights. The last one put him on the floor for a count of two.

Marciano tried to end the bout in the third round but was unable to shake Charles loose and the champion bled slightly from the nose. Ezzard did little but hold on and hardly punched at all.

He was better in the fourth round and jabbed Rocky with lefts but the champion forced the fighting all the way and hit Charles with a hard right when the round had only 10 seconds to go.

The fifth was a continuation of the pattern with Charles holding onto Rocky and the champion trying to shake loose. Charles showed no offense at all at this stage.

It was in the sixth session that Marciano was warned for the two low blows and his nose was cut. Rocky came out in the seventh with a bandage on his nose but Charles knocked it loose and the champion bled but kept right after his opponent tossing his bombs.

Charles landed a flurry of punches at the start of the eighth and Rocky's left eyebrow was cut but he chopped Charles with a right, dropping him for a count of four. Then shortly after the challenger got up, Rocky chopped home some more rights and this time Charles went down and didn't get up until it was too late.

Afterward it was the champion, cut and bleeding as usual but also victorious, who showed the evidences of having been in a tough fight. Charles had no visible marks on him and his face was not puffed and swollen as it was in the June bout.

The bout originally had been scheduled for Wednesday night but was postponed for a day because of rain. Then rain on Thursday caused it to be set back for another day.

It was announced by the I.B.C. that it had refunded $60,000 to fans who couldn't wait any longer to see the match and the receipts thus fell far below the hoped for $500,000.

The June bout attracted 47,000 persons and receipts of more than $540,000.

Marciano received 40 per cent of all net proceeds from the gate, from the closed television circuit into 70 theaters across the country, $35,000 from radio and from the motion pictures. Charles got 20 per cent.

Considering what each man earned in June, however, it is quite likely that the second match netted neither a great amount of money and the big winner was Uncle Sam on income taxes.

Battered but Still Champ

With a patch covering a split in his nose, heavyweight titleholder ROCKY MARCIANO manages a smile for admirers crowding his dressing room after his victory over Ezzard Charles last night. Charles inflicted the nose injury in the sixth round and opened a cut in Rocky's left eyebrow in the eighth just before Marciano knocked him out.

Redbird Farmhand Gets Six Hits in Ft. Jackson's Win

FT. ARSON, Colo., Sept. 18, (AP)—Ft. Jackson, S. C., set the stage for a rematch with the Ft. Ord, Calif., arriors by whipping Ft. Lee, Va., 10-1 in the all-army tournament here last night.

The loss dropped Lee from the tournament and gave the Southerners their fourth win in five starts. Their only loss came earlier in the week to undefeated Ord, 8-5, in 10 innings.

The championship game will be played between Jackson and Ord at Memorial Field in nearby Colorado Springs tonight.

Leftfielder Gil Daley, a St. Louis Cardinal farmhand, sparked the winners with six hits in as many tries. He is batting .583 in the tourney.

Cleveland High Ties McBride Eleven, 6-6

Cleveland and McBride High Schools played to a 6-6 tie last night in a football game at Public Schools Stadium.

Each side scored its touchdown in the second quarter. McBride opened a drive shortly after the period opened and finally counted on a 22-yard run by Rufus Davis. Cleveland then pushed to the McBride 40, kicked, later regained the ball and after ground gains of a few yards at a time scored on a twoyard plunge by Roger Lively.

Warren Meets Sheppard for Air Force Title

It will be Sheppard, Tex., Air Force Base against Warren Air Force Base of Wyoming in the final of the Air Force baseball championship tourney today at Scott Field Air Base.

Sheppard moved into the final of the two and out series yesterday with a 9-0 victory over SHAPE of Paris.

Warren is undefeated in the competition, while Sheppard has dropped one game. A victory for Warren in the first game would end play, but a Sheppard triumph would force a second contest.

In yesterday's contest, Lonnie Blair, on the hill for the winners, scattered eight hits. Centerfielder Paul Barber had three hits and drove in three tallies.

Knights Seek Third Victory

WAUSAU, Wis., Sept. 18—The St. Louis Knights seek their third victory of the season here tonight, when they face the Wausau Muskies in a Central States Professional Football League game.

Cards Have Lost 44 of 75 Home Games; Club Passes Million Mark in Attendance

By Bob Broeg

A lot of folks have seen the Cardinals lose a lot of ball games at Busch Stadium this year.

A highly respectable ball club on the road, Eddie Stanky's Redbirds have been horrible at home, where in theory and so often in fact a team has an edge. And more than 1,000,000 fans have seen the Cards bad more often than good.

The total reached 1,001,274, a tribute to the area's baseball following, when a surprising crowd of 16,865 turned out for last night's opener of the Cardinals' final three-game home stand of the season.

As has been the rule rather than the exception here this disappointing season, the Redbirds lost to Milwaukee's Braves, 6 to 4. The defeat was the 44th in 75 home contests for a club that has won 36 out of 70 on the road.

Haddix Again Beaten.

Start-and-finish pitching, a refreshing feature of the Redbirds' final eastern trip, again was missing on the home grounds as Harvey Haddix, roughed up in the fourth and fifth rounds, was charged with all the Braves' runs and his twelfth defeat.

Thereafter Ben Wade, flashing a strikeout pitch, and Gerry Staley, who had delighted children with his conversational repartee in their "Autograph Night" tour through the Cards' dugout, combined to check the visitors. So, too, however, was tall Dave Jolly highly effective in relief for Milwaukee. And, more important, he was protecting a lead to achieve his tenth triumph.

Jolly took over in the fourth inning of a 4-4 game and permitted only one more hit until the ninth when one-out singles by Wally Moon and Red Schoendienst brought Charley Grimm bouncing out of the Braves' dugout to beckon for a former Redbird nemesis, southpaw Dave Koslo.

Not only did Koslo have the good fortune to retire Stan Musial on a pitch The Man was trying to duck, but Ernie Johnson, a righthander fetched from the bullpen to face Ray Jablonski, escaped with his life—and the game—when he threw up a glove in front of Jabbo's hot line-drive for an unconscious game-ending catch.

Redbirds Fall Behind.

So the Cardinals fell two and one-half games behind the first division while Milwaukee crept within two contests of second place as Jolly displayed a knuckle ball against the Redbirds for the first time.

By the time he came in to face Alex Grammas in the fourth, the Golden Greek had hit his second major league homer for a 1-0 St. Louis lead that disappeared in a four-run Milwaukee fourth, a result of a walk, singles by Del Crandall and Andy Pafko, plus Johnny Logan's triple on which Grammas' relay was low.

The Cardinals knocked out lefty Chet Nichols with three in the fourth on a walk, Rip Repulski's double, Bill Sarni's single, Joe Cunningham's two-base hit and—off Jolly—a run-scoring sacrifice fly by Grammas.

Milwaukee ripped right back into Haddix again in the fifth as Bill Bruton tripled, Danny O'Connell singled and Ed Mathews walloped a long double off the left -center field wall. A dropped throw at second base produced the second run of the decisive inning.

Redbird Notes.

Righthanders Gordon Jones of the Cardinals and Jim Wilson of the Braves probably will be the starting pitchers tonight at 8 o'clock . . . with both Joe Adcock and Hank Aaron injured, Second Baseman Danny O'Connell played first for Milwaukee . . . An estimated 2500 children were herded through the Cardinals' dugout for 40 minutes before the game and received autographed pictures from the players . . . Selected as symbolizing the 1,000,000th fan, James J. Pingel, 32-year-old Jennings bleacherite accompanied by his son, 7, was brought forward to receive a season's pass for 1955.

Jackie Pung Is New Leader in Wichita Open

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 18 (AP)—Jackis PungX Hawaiian girl, now playing out of Cincinnati, jumped into the lead in the $5000 Wichita Women's Open golf tournament yesterday with a par of 36-35—71 second round. The 71 gave her a 36-hole total of 149, two strokes ahead of Beverly Hanson, Cincinnati, and Betsy Rawls, Spartansburg, S.C., who were tied at 151.

Miss Rawls, the first day's leader at 74, was one under par until her ball landed among reeds beside a creek on 390-yard No. 13. She took eight strokes on the par 4 hole.

Miss Hanson was five strokes better than on her first round and posted 73 to move up into the 151 tie with Miss Rawls.

Three players were tied at 152, they were Marlene Bauer, Sarasota, Fla., who shot 76; Patty Berg, Chicago, 75; and Betty Jameson, San Antonio, Tex., 75.

Mildred (Babe) Zaharias of Tampa, Fla., slipped to 79 for a 155 total.

DETROIT, Sept. 18 (UP) — Big Early Wynn can serve as the "handsome waiter" to a wing-ding Cleveland Indian victory celebration today when he goes after his twenty-second victory of the season against the Detroit Tigers.

Wynn's pitching sidekick, Bob Lemon, gained the Indians at least a tie for the American League pennant last night when he beat the Tigers, 6-3, with the help of a grand slam homer by Bobby Avila.

That victory — the Indians' 106th of the campaign—enabled the Cleveland officials to start their champagne chilling operations, for it left the league leaders eight games ahead of the second place New York Yankees with only eight games remaining.

Thus, a Cleveland victory and/or a New York defeat today will signal a new league champion and the official end of the Yankees' five-year title reign.

Wynn has split four decisions against Detroit this year but has a lifetime record of 24 victories and 17 defeats versus the Tigers. He will be opposed in his pennant-clinching attempt by the Tigers' mound ace, Steve Gromek, who has a 17-15 mark this season.

The Tigers put up a strong fight last night, tying the Indians at 2-all in the sixth inning, but Avila then unloaded his base-clearing blow in the seventh to wrap up Lemon's twenty-third victory. Al Rosen also homored off loser Ned Garver in the first inning.

The Yankees, meanwhile, postponed their "death" at least another day by whipping the Philadelphia Athletics, 10-3. Southpaw Tommy Byrne, recently brought back from the Pacific Coast League, scattered eight hits in posting his second victory in three starts.

In the National League pennant race, the New York Giants dropped a 4-3 decision to Robin Roberts and the Philadelphia Phillies but maintained their 4½ game margin as the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers, 9-1. The Giants' magic number now stands at four.

Roberts held the Giants to seven hits, but needed a two-run single by Del Ennis in the eighth inning to sew up up his twenty-first victory. Johnny Antonelli was the loser.

BARBARA ROMACK (left) of Sacramento, Calif., and MICKEY WRIGHT of La Jolla, Calif., hold the championship cup for which they are playing in the final of the women's national golf tourney.

Mickey Wright, Barbara Romack In Title Match

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 18 (AP) — The morning round of the final match for the women's national amateur golf championship was washed out today, but United States Golf Association officials decided to try to play 18 holes this afternoon and second 18 tomorrow afternoon.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 18 (AP) —Two of the youngest — and probably the prettiest — girls ever to play in a final match for the United States women's amateur golf title, met today in an all-California final.

They are 21-year-old Barbara Romack of Sacramento and 19-year-old Mary Kathryn (Mickey) Wright of LaJolla, survivors of a talent-packed field of 145 that started play Monday and winners of a notably lopsided pair of semifinal matches.

Miss Wright shot one over par golf for 14 holes to eliminate the defending champion, Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., 5 and 4. Miss Romack was one under par for 12 holes to crush Mrs. Marjorie Lindsay McMillen of Decatur, Ill., 7 and 6.

East St. Louis Gains Its 22d Straight Win

By Harold Tuthill

East St. Louis High showed no letup of football supremacy as it defeated Springfield's Solons, 27-7, last night at Parson's Field to give Wirt Downing's Flyers their twenty-second consecutive triumph.

Meanwhile, St. Louis U. High, an opponent East St. Louis will have to face next month, engaged in one of its tight struggles with Southwest, the Junior Billikens of C. J. Taylor winning, 13-7, before about 4500 fans at Oakland Stadium.

And, in a struggle which saw University City, always a Suburban powerhouse, trailing, 12-6, after three quarters, the Indians of Stub Muhl rallied in the fourth quarter for two tallies and an 18-12 victory over a good Ferguson combination.

Those were some of the highlights of a high school program which will continue today with six day games and four night contests. Webster Groves's super-charged outfit will play Poplar Bluff at Maplewood High tonight.

In an outstanding day game, Country Day, victor of 16 straight, will visit Chaminade, and Bob Hughes's Rams are hoping they can open in as impressive fashion as East St. Louis did.

Score in Every Quarter.

Downing's charges scored in every quarter as first Jack Purdy tallied, then Don Mason scored two TDs and passed to Jim Jones for the fourth. The visiting Solons picked up their lone tally in the fourth quarter when two long passes and two long runs against the Orange and Blue reserves put Springfield in position to score.

St. Louis U. High and Southwest have met three times in the past two years and every time the difference has been a touchdown. The rubber meeting featured another tight defense, C. J. Taylor's Little Bills scoring their two touchdowns in the second quarter on alert play.

Midway in the period Dave Vize took a Southwest punt at the Longhorn 40 and started to the right. Simultaneously teammate Pete Salsich started to the left, crossing behind Vize who handed him the ball. Vize continued down the west sideline for the tally.

Later Bill Reinwart blocked a Southwest punt and recovered it at the Steers' 14. The Blue and White punched it over, Paul Christ getting the TD. Tom O'Keefe passed to Tom Bourke for the extra point.

Break Aids Southwest.

Southwest, kept in check by the good Billiken defense, took advantage of a break in the fourth quarter to draw closer to the Steers' Accident Benefit game rivals last fall. Jim Kenny's boys pounced upon a fumbled punt inside the 30 and a 15-yard pass which Insalaco caught set up Jerry's TD run on the next play. He also kicked the extra point.

Ferguson surprised U. City with a first quarter tally when Bob Tippett took a TD pass good for about 11 yards thrown by Elton (Ike) Blackman, who later scored the Comets's tally in the third quarter.

Stub Muhl's Indians bounced back in the opening period with a tying touchdown, the payoff being a 26-yard pass play from Dave Grossman to Al Schumitzky. It was Schumitzky, too, who caught a pass just over the goal line with two minutes left to play, which provided the Tribe with its margin of victory. Previously the Indians had tied it on Comfort's short dash, midway in the fourth quarter.

TESTIFIES REDS TOOK FLEMING'S WILL TO RESIST

Psychiatrist Says Foe Destroyed It by Brain Washing and Starving P.O.W.

FORT SHERIDAN, Ill., Sept. 18 (AP)—Lt. Col. Harry Fleming has completed his court-martial defense with a psychiatrist's testimony that hunger, brutality and "brain washings" destroyed his will to resist his Communist captors.

Fleming, first American officer to be tried for his behavior as a Korean war prisoner, is accused of collaborating with the Reds during his three years in captivity.

Dr. Glenn A. Bacon of Racine, Wis., said he based his opinion on an examination he made of the Army officer and on testimony of other P.O.W.s who testified at the court-martial.

Summations of the court-martial testimony will be given when the hearing is resumed Monday and the case may go to the 11-man court late that day for a ruling. The court-martial opened Aug. 30.

Fleming, 46 years old, of Racine, is specifically accused of taking part in Red propaganda broadcasts, of attacking the war aims of the United States and otherwise co-operating unnecessarily with his captors.

Dr. Bacon, a former Army Medical Corps captain, raised these contentions:

1. Tactics employed by Fleming's jailers to soften his resistance had "brain washed" him to the point he was "no longer able to adhere to the right."

2. The half-starved condition in which Fleming testified his captors kept him would cause "a nutrient inadequacy with a resultant loss of will to resist."

3. A combination of malnutrition caused beri-beri and dysentery, from which Fleming testified he suffered in captivity, would tend to throw the prisoner into confusion and impair his judgment to a certain degree.

Dr. Bacon said a recent examination of Fleming showed the officer still suffers from the effects of his long captivity.

Earlier, the prosecution introduced an Army doctor's psychiatric report contending that at the time of the alleged offenses Fleming "was able to adhere to the right within limits."

The report, by Dr. Leonard C. Arnold of the base hospital, added:

"However, because of the obvious extreme stress and deprivations encountered as a prisoner of war, it is more than a possibility that . . . the patient suffered from impaired judgment which . . . did impair or diminish his ability" to adhere to the right.

DULLES SAYS EDC SUBSTITUTE IS NOT YET WORKED OUT

It would be an even greater mistake to adopt a negative approach which would result in the disintegration of what has been built, since the war, out of the sacrifices, the efforts, the aspirations of many."

Dulles said Adenauer "has been zealous to find ways whereby German rearmament would be so integrated into a single European force that it could never again serve German militarism."

Dulles added:

"However, he feels that it is no longer possible to withhold sovereignty from Germany until European unity is achieved; also that there can no longer be deferred the preliminary steps which will permit Germany to exercise the inherent right of individual and collective defense.

"I informed the Chancellor that his views in these respects were fully shared by not only President Eisenhower, but by the Congress, and, I believe, by the American people generally."

Dulles's statement concluded:

"The United States is deeply concerned with the maintenance of peace and security on the European continent. European security is intimately connected with our own. We shall, therefore, continue our association with European planning to achieve those ends. There are many European leaders who retain hope of real achievement. They know that we will support them in their creative efforts."

BURGLAR SUSPECT ESCAPES FROM JAIL AT FULTON, MO.

Louis Dale Cowan, who was arrested Aug. 4 when he and his brother, Loy, abandoned an automobile loaded with 280 cartons of cigarettes in St. Louis county, escaped from the Callaway county jail at Fulton, Mo., early today.

The State Highway Patrol said Cowan, 28 years old, apparently used a file to cut through the safety lock of his cell. He crawled from a corridor window to the roof and lowered himself to the ground with a rope made of sheets.

Following his escape he was seen at his home in Robertson, St. Louis county, officers reported. They were told he obtained a change of clothing and left. Cowan had been taken to Fulton to face burglary charges. He also has been charged with participation in a University City holdup in which a man was wounded.

Undersea Quake Recorded.

PASADENA, Calif., Sept. 18 (AP)—A major earthquake 150 miles under the sea somewhere in the southwestern Pacific was recorded yesterday by the California Institute of Technology.

Canadian Acquitted of Murder Of Wife Who Was Drowned

BRUCE McLEAN — MRS. RAYMOND ST. LOUIS

—United Press Telephotos.

WELLAND, Ont., Sept. 18 (AP)—A supreme court jury acquitted 23-year-old Bruce McLean yesterday of a murder charge filed after his wife was drowned in a canoing accident last year.

But the young office worker went back into custody on charges of obtaining $1600 by fraud from Mrs. Raymond St. Louis, the former Sylvia Davies, with whom he associated for a time last winter.

McLean showed no emotion over the verdict. He testified at his trial that the canoe in which he and his wife, Elizabeth Doreen, were paddling overturned when she tried to push it away from a retaining wall. He said he tried in vain to rescue her.

The drowning was listed as accidental at first, but McLean was charged with murder last spring after his former girl friend, Sylvia, said in court he told her he got rid of his wife in a "perfect crime" and that he threatened her.

Justice R. W. Treleaven told the 12-man jury he had no criticism of the verdict on the murder charge.

"You have given him the benefit of the doubt—as you should do," he said.

NIXON ASSAILS TRUMAN POLICIES IN ADDRESS HERE

hower Administration the budget has been cut by 12 billion dollars and taxes have been reduced 7.5 billion dollars, the largest tax cut in American history," the Californian said. "We are approaching a balanced budget and inflation has been checked."

Communism at Home.

On the subject of Communism at home, the speaker charged that the Democrats "either did not understand the magnitude of the threat, or ignored it."

He said the Republicans are vigorously enforcing laws to curb Communism, and have discharged thousands of Communists and fellow travelers from Government service.

"We don't hire them in the first place, if we can possibly find out what their record is," he declared.

"The big 1954 issue is the Eisenhower record against a return to Trumanism. The prophets of gloom and doom first predicted a Republican depression. But the rug was pulled out from under them when the depression didn't come off.

"Now all they offer the American people is a sterile, negative campaign based on name calling and unfounded smear. They have had to admit all they can offer is a return to Trumanism."

Arrives by Chartered Plane.

Nixon, on an eight-day trip in behalf of Republican congressional candidates, arrived late yesterday by chartered plane after an afternoon talk at Nevada, Mo. A large group of Republican leaders were on hand to meet him at Lambert-St. Louis Field.

They included Arthur K. Atkinson, president of the Wabash Railroad, and chairman of the committee which sponsored the fund-raising dinner; Roscoe C. Hobbs, Republican state finance chairman; Barak T. Mattingly, a close Eisenhower adviser; Mrs. Estelle Tanner of Jefferson City, Republican National Committeewoman for Missouri, and Welsh.

Several party leaders, including State Chairman Perry Compton of Montgomery City, accompanied Nixon on his flight from Nevada.

Reason for Visit.

The Vice President held a brief press conference at the airport. He told reporters that he came to Missouri because there are several marginal congressional districts in the state which could go either way in the November 2 election. He declined to predict the outcome of any of the Missouri races.

He reported he was surprised to find that Missouri and Kansas farmers are more concerned with the drouth than the Republican flexible price support program.

"In fact," he said, "a good 4-inch rain in these states would do more for the Republican cause than all the speeches I could make in two years."

Nixon stayed overnight in St. Louis at the Congress Hotel. He left this morning for South Dakota, where he resumes his speaking trip.

Martin Says He is 'Certain of G.O.P. Majority' in Congress.

PONTIAC, Mich., Sept. 18 (AP)—Speaker Joseph W. Martin (Rep.), Massachusetts, said last night "Americans maintain their faith in Ike Eisenhower and realize the inherent good epitomized by his program and will return a Republican majority to both houses" of Congress in November elections.

Martin, on a campaign swing designed to bolster candidacies of Republicans for the House and Senate, spoke in a Michigan district which has elected George Dondero to the House for 11 terms. Dondero, again the Republican nominee, won in 1952 by 108,000 to 84,000 votes.

The speaker told reporters after his speech that the upset of the Republican nominee for Governor in Maine came on "purely local issues" and that he was "certain of a Republican majority" in Congress.

Martin said he came to Dondero's district to speak "out of friendship;" that he knew the veteran Republican needed no help.

Martin praised the record of the Eighty-third Congress, saying that it cut taxes $7,400,000,000, or $200 for every family.

"Every household in the land already feels the effects of those cuts," he said. "Every worker, every farmer, every small business owner knows he can spend it for him."

Martin said "our (Republican) loyalty program already separated 2486 security risks from the Federal payroll" and that "Red wobblies, saboteurs, spies and traitors have been given the ax."

CALL GOING OUT FOR PARLEY ON ARMING GERMANS

today he was "absolutely convinced" that unless West Germany is rearmed American forces will be withdrawn from Europe and the British will follow suit.

Spaak declared:

"We have to answer that terrible question—must we rearm the Germans? Yes or no? Speaking as foreign minister I am obliged to say yes. To say no would mean the end of Europe, the end of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as it exists. Such a change in the concept of strategy would leave Europe defenseless."

He was challenged by British Laborite Alfred Robens to say when the United States had made a threat to withdraw its troops from Europe.

"We have been warned many times by the United States" Spaak replied.

Laborite's Suggestion.

Another British laborite, James Callaghan, proposed that the West give up trying to rearm the Germans and instead negotiate a political settlement with Russia.

He said Dulles was acting as if he was ready to rearm tht Germans without the assent of France.

That would mean dropping the French overboard, Callaghan said, and he did not believe the Allied governments would be "so stupid" as to do that.

Mendes-France is expected to address the Strasbourg assembly Monday and there was a report today that Adenauer would also appear if Mendes-France showed up. In Bonn, however, a West German government spokesman said Adenauer has no plans to go to Strasbourg Monday, or any other day.

MENDES-FRANCE STATES POSITION

LONDON, Sept. 18 (UP) — French Premier Mendes-France publicly gave preliminary approval today to a plan to bring West Germany into a community of nations but indicated he opposes immediate German membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Answering questions submitted by the newspaper Manchester Guardian, Mendes-France said he was thinking primarily of a European defense system in which "we Europeans agreed among ourselves."

He indorsed a plan by Foreign Secretary Eden to extend the Brussels pact of 1948 to include West Germany and Italy economically but hedged on bringing West Germany into NATO, as desired by Secretary Dulles.

Mendes-France said the rejection of EDC "brings out above all the primary urgency of Franco-German reconciliation."

"The rearmament of Germany, considered necessary to the defense of Europe, touches a particularly sensitive point," he continued.

"It is legitimate that the Germans ask that the solution adopted should exclude all discriminations except those arising from a special geographic situation, a principle they have themselves accepted."

(Under EDC, Germany would have agreed not to build secret weapons factories or atomic installations because of its nearness to Russia.)

"Granting this," Mendes-France said, "I consider that a climate of confidence would be inaugurated if we Europeans agreed among ourselves on the organization of an effective system of arms limitation and control on the basis of equality."

By stating that he expected Germany to adhere to its pledge not to rebuild war factories, he indicated his opposition to giving West Germany equal rearmament rights had not changed.

PRISON CHECKS INTO DEATH OF GUARD IN BREAK

3 Convicts Captured Within 10 Hours — Dead Man Found Shot in Escape Truck.

CARSON CITY, Nev. Sept. 18 (AP)—Authorities sought today to find out how a Nevada state prison guard was killed during a reckless escape by three convicts—all recaptured within 10 hours yesterday.

"We are trying to get things back to normal," said Warden A. E. Bernard. He will question the three men about the death of Guard George Miller, 59 years old, who was taken as a hostage when the three convicts seized a milk truck he was driving through the yard. They forced him to smash open the rear gate with the truck.

Guards on high towers opened fire on the truck with rifles as it ran past two steel gates and disappeared along a dirt road. The truck was found half a mile away from the prison.

Miller's body was found in the truck, a bullet through his head. Chief of Guards Harry Fletcher said Miller had not carried a gun and that the three convicts were unarmed when recaptured.

Bernard would not comment on how Miller got shot until he and District Attorney Cameron Batjer completed their investigation.

Other sources, however, said it was apparently certain Miller was killed in the heavy gunfire from the tower.

Batjer said charges would be filed against the three convicts: the ringleader, Gene T. Liebig, 19, kidnaper sent up from Cambridge, Minn.; William Robert Burman, 21, of Chicago, in for robbery, and Don Gulovsen, 25, serving time for bad checks.

Patjer explained he could file either kidnaping or escape charges—both of which carry the death penalty under Nevada law if someone is killed during commission of the crime.

Two Still at Large in Break at Atlanta Prison.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 18 (AP) —The Atlanta Federal penitentiary's biggest break in history left two prisoners at large today after bloodhounds led to the capture of two others last night.

Yesterday's escapees, George H. Evans of Douglasville, Pa., and Charles Richard Perry of Memphis, Tenn., each 29 years old, slipped through a sewer pipe yesterday afternoon to short - lived freedom. They emerged in a woodland several hundred yards from the prison walls.

Prison officials said that when bloodhounds found the trail the pair split up. They were captured only a few hours apart last night.

Two others, George Ellis, 29, and Charles Edward Stegall, 36, made their getaway Wednesday through the same sewer. Warden W. H. Hardwick said they twisted an opening in a barred grill that covered the sewer and then slid through to freedom.

Despite an intensive search after Ellis and Stegall escaped, guards at the prison did not discover the sewer opening.

The last break from Atlanta penitentiary was in 1923, when George (Dutch) Anderson tunnelled out. Atlanta, with 2500 prisoners, is rated third to Alcatraz and Leavenworth in prison security among Federal institutions.

PART OF MILLION ARBENZ IS ACCUSED OF TAKING FOUND

GUATEMALA CITY, Sept. 18 (AP)—President Carlos Castillo Armas said yesterday his government had recovered part of the million dollars it accuses ex-President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman and his henchmen of taking from the public funds.

Speaking at a press conference, Castillo did not disclose the amount recovered but he said it hardly amounts to the "million they got away with."

Arbenz, whose Communist-supported government was overthrown June 27 by Guatemalan exiles led by Castillo, has been given political asylum in Mexico.

Castillo announced he plans to reorganize his government within a few days. Saying the nation is living under a sort of cold war psychosis which makes it easy to spread rumors, the president asserted he hopes calm will return soon.

Reds Said to Use Million Agents To Hold 27,000,000 Poles in Line

Voice of America Reports Russia Is Bleeding Country—Moscow Buys Coal at $1.25 a Ton, Resells It at $18.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (UP) —The Voice of America charged yesterday that the Communists in Poland use more than 1,000,000 agents to "keep the anti-Communist Polish populace of 27,000,000 in line."

The United States Information Agency, in two 30-minute voice broadcasts to Poland, gave the figures in dramatizing the "Soviet duplicity in planning the end of Polish sovereignty." The Voice's radio center at Munich, Germany, broadcast a special program to the Poles to further document the Soviet conspiracy.

The broadcasts marked the fifteenth anniversary of Russia's invasion of Poland Sept. 17, 1939.

"To assure its subservience to Moscow," the agency said, "150,000 secret police, 120,000 militia members, and 800,000 spies and informers keep the anti-Communist Polish populace of 27,000,000 in line."

The agency also reported that the Polish economy had been reshaped under a Moscow economic plan which exacts the highest prices for raw materials sold to Poland "while forcing Poland to agree to accept the lowest prices for everything it sells to the U.S.S.R."

For example, it said Poland was forced in 1945 to sign an agreement to deliver 12,000,000 tons of coal annually to Russia for $1.25 a ton. Russia resold the same coal to other countries for $18 a ton, it said.

In return for this and other exploitation, the agency said, Moscow has announced a "gift" to the Polish people in the form of a 34-story Soviet House of Culture now under construction in Warsaw.

"The 'gift' actually consisted of a set of blueprints," the agency said. "Engineers and hundreds of workers imported for the job from the Soviet Union are being paid by the Polish Government—at twice the rate of local workers."

WOMAN, TWO MEN GET DEATH FOR MURDER IN CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18 (AP) —Sentences of death next Dec. 3 were given yesterday to blonde Barbara Graham and two men convicted with her of murdering a Burbank widow.

Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke ordered Mrs. Graham, 29 years old; Jack Santo, 48, and Emmett Perkins, 44, executed in San Quentin prison's gas chamber. He presided at the jury trial in which they were convicted.

Mrs. Mable Monohan, 64, was bludgeoned and strangled to death March 9, 1953, in what authorities said was a robbery attempt. Perkins and Santo also have been sentenced to die for the murder of a Chester (Calif.) grocer, Gard Young, and three small girls, on a mountain road.

WOMAN, 93, DIES OF BURNS, 7TH IN NURSING HOME FIRE

KINCAID, Kan., Sept. 18 (UP)—Mrs. Mollie Crocker, 93 years old, died in a hospital at Iola, Kan., today of injuries suffered yesterday in a fire at a nursing home in Kincaid. She was the seventh person to die as the result of the fire, the other six having perished when the 40-year-old frame building burned.

Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Refuge For 4 More Russians.

TAIPEH, Formosa, Sept. 18 (AP) — Nationalist China said today four more Russian crewmen from the seized Soviet tanker Tuapse have been granted political asylum. Six other crewmen were given refuge here a week ago.

THAILAND DUE TO OK PACIFIC TREATY SHORTLY

Concerned Over Reds, Calls Ratification of Pact Best Way to Assure Peace.

BANGKOK, Sept. 18 (AP)—Thailand, expressing concern over possible Communist aggression, announced its decision yesterday to ratify the Manila pact as the best way to assure peace. Ratification is expected within a few days.

Eight nations, including the United States, signed the Southeast Asia collective security treaty Sept. 8 in Manila.

Premier P. Pibulsonggram pointed out that "Thailand lies close to the already endangered area," and added in a statement:

"There is also every indication that she is included in the intended area of aggression."

He said the treaty and the Pacific charter were submitted to the national assembly yesterday and had been referred to King Phumiphon Adundet for signature. The assembly submission was a mere formality, however. Under Thai law, legislators do not vote on such matters.

After the king signs, the treaty will be returned to the cabinet for ratification.

"By this treaty Thailand is guaranteed against any aggression that she will be assisted by the parties to the treaty, without which she has to stand alone in the struggle for her safety and security," the premier said.

TAXICAB DRIVER SLUGGED, ROBBED BY PASSENGER

Wesley E. Gray, an Ace Cab driver, told deputy sheriffs he was slugged and robbed of $28 early today by a passenger he had picked up at Eighteenth and Market streets and had driven to Adie road in St. Louis county, about a mile south of St. Charles road.

Gray was treated at St. Louis County hospital for head injuries. Sheriff's deputies on patrol found him just after he had recovered consciousness. His cab went out of control when he was struck, and was in a field about 200 feet off the road.

MAN, 45, WIFE, 77, DIVORCED

A 45-year-old man obtained a divorce from his 77-year-old wife yesterday after he testified she had slapped his face twice since their marriage in March, 1946.

Jess Cavaness of Marissa, Ill., alled cruelty in seeking the divorce in the court of Circuit Judge Quinten Spivey at Belleville. Mrs. Cavaness, who lives at Sparta, Ill., did not contest the suit. The pair separated last Jan. 20.

For Farmers' Meeting

A Pleasant Drive Through Ozark Area

By Leonard Hall

WE DROVE to Shannon county the other day to sit in on a farmers' meeting at Shannondale Community House. Our route lay west across Highway 32, which follows the "height of land" between the Meramec and the Black and Current rivers to the south, until it reaches Salem. This road lies through the forest and we were surprised to see how much color has already appeared in the autumn woods. Here and there, solitary gum trees showed red against the green of oak and pine. And around the edges of abandoned farmsteads, the sassafrass was yellow, while dogwood leaves were turning to scarlet. Judging from this, we'd say the autumn color will be early this year. Out at East End, we turned aside to exchange greetings with our friend Ernest Brand, who runs the store there and farms on Cub creek, in addition to serving as judge for the western district of our county. And then, because we never seem able to resist the back roads, we took the Forest Service trail that runs south from Bixby to the little settlement of Buick, then west again to the lumber town of Bunker on Highway 79. These forest roads are surprisingly well kept and pleasant to drive on a cool morning.

★ ★ ★

MUCH OF THE ROAD lies through an area which, in the past, was as badly mistreated as land could be. After the original logging, thousands of acres were cut over a second time for charcoaling, with everything taken down to the saplings. Then for years the land was grazed and burned over annually in an attempt to keep the brush down. But as erosion and fire took their toll, the grass was destroyed and the burning only served to encourage scrub growth. Finally this land was taken over as part of the Clark National Forest. It was given fire protection and some measure of grazing control. Gradually as humus built up on the forest floor and more water was held on the land, the better trees once more found a foothold and native grasses and legumes came back to help control the scrub. Scarlet oak and pine began to re-seed and today much of this forest is on its way to usefulness again after 50 years of unproductivity.

★ ★ ★

AT BUNKER WE TOOK the county road which follows for 15 miles down Sinkin creek and eventually comes out on Highway 19 just south of Shannondale, our destination. This creek winds down a narrow valley which has suffered much from gravel erosion and has, because of the nature of its soils, been doubly hard hit by the drouth. Yet the creek was running, which is more than we can say for our own Saline, and this is probably because of good protection on the forested watershed which lies above the farm lands.

★ ★ ★

IT WAS PROBLEMS LIKE THIS that were being discussed by the hundred or so farmers gathered that morning at Shannondale. The Community House, which we've written about before, is a mission of the Evangelical and Reformed Lutheran Church in St. Louis and has done a fine and worthwhile service to a large Ozark community. We drove in and were greeted by the pastor, Vincent Bucher, and then joined the group out under the oak trees. A glance around showed many friends and acquaintances including Ben Davis and "Rip" Burrows from Carter county, Hugh Denny from Blue Spring, Gus Bielmann from the Shaw Arboretum in Franklin county, Ned Beecher of Kirkwood, Carl Noren from the Conservation Commission, a good delegation of interested business men and the working press from Salem in Dent county, forester Kirk from the big Pioneer Forest, Bill Colman from Cape Girardeau, T. R. Smith from Reynolds county, Chester Spencer from Birch Tree, Lewis Baldwin of St. Louis and W. A. French, author and editor of the Current Wave at Eminence.

★ ★ ★

ALL OF THESE HAD GATHERED to discuss with the folks of Shannondale who live along Barren Fork and Sinkin creek and the dry hollows that run down to Current river, the ways in which good land use and water conservation might help solve some of their problems and build a better community. It seemed to me, as the day progressed, that many of our Ozark farmers on the less productive soils must have, first of all, some emergency help because of terribly tough conditions brought on by three years of drouth. Their wells and springs are dry, so that in the immediate neighborhood of Shannondale, nearly 40 farm families depend for water on the well of the Community House.

★ ★ ★

ALSO EXPLORED at the meeting were the possibilities of working co-operatively for better soil and water management in both Dent and Shannon counties. And here, through organizations such as the soil districts, the agencies of the Department of Agriculture can give much help. Ozark farmers are individualists and the pattern of ownership in the hill counties is scattered, so that such organizations are not formed in a day. Yet over in Reynolds county, which adjoins Shannon and has almost exactly the same problems, a soil district is in successful operation with nearly 200 co-operators in its third year. Good land use never comes with a rush but we decided, as we drove home to Possum Trot with the setting sun at our backs, that it had been given a good boost during our day of discussion at Shannondale.

Stepping Stones for Big Bridge

Work in progress on giant stepping stones which will be the foundations for the main piers of the Mackinac bridge across the Straits of Mackinac in upper Michigan. The bridge, to cost almost $80,000,000, will be one of the world's greatest suspension spans —8600 feet—and will link Mackinaw City with St. Ignace (upper left). The Straits of Mackinac, which separate Michigan's Lower and Upper peninsulas, now are crossed by ferries.

TWO BEST PLOWMEN TO BE CHOSEN TODAY

Level-Land and Contour Contest for U.S. Title at Olney, Ill.

OLNEY, Ill., Sept. 18 (AP)—The two best plowmen in America will be chosen today from a field of 23 state titleholders.

The level-land plowing event is a closing feature of the 1954 national plowing matches at nearby Onion Hill. A contour champion will be selected later in the day.

Most of the entrants will use the same pet equipment that made them the talk of their farming neighbors back home. But few will be familiar with the type of sun-dried soil waiting to be plowed today.

In another section of the 2200-acre match site, judges prepared to pick a champion in the international supreme sheep dog trials, a regular feature of the three-day farm show. The 30 border collies entered in the event have been crowd pleasers since opening day.

Principal speaker on today's afternoon program is Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson. The Secretary's plane is scheduled to land at Mattoon. A motor escort will meet him there for the 60-mile ride to Olney.

Robert C. Erickson, 30 years old, of Minooka, and John C. Daniels, 32, of Mulberry Grove are the two Illinois representatives in the national plowing contest.

They were chosen in state judging yesterday. Erickson, who farms 312 acres in Kendall county, is the new level land champion. Daniels, owner of a 555-acre spread in Fayette county, won the contour contest.

Gov. William G. Stratton visited the grounds at noon yesterday and complimented planners on the "fine job done here despite extreme drouth conditions." "We in Springfield were not unmindful of your problems," Stratton said.

Senator Paul Douglas and his Republican opponent in the Nov. 2 election, Joseph Meek, appeared on the same platform during the afternoon. But an expected political debate did not develop.

Douglas called the farm economy under the present Republican Administration "the lowest in the last 13 years." "Farmers everywhere have had to tighten their belts," he said.

Meek said he would let Secretary Benson talk of agriculture in his visit today and that he did not care to get envolved in "political personalities" with his November opponent.

STATE BOARD'S ACCOUNTANT JOINS LACLEDE GAS CO.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 18—Homer L. Thorp of Shelbyville, chief of the accounting department of the Missouri Public Service Commission, has resigned, effective Oct. 1, to accept a position with the Laclede Gas Co. of St. Louis. Commission Chairman Tyre W. Burton said yesterday.

Thorp, who has been with the commission as an accountant for about 19 years, is leaving the state service because the utility company offered greater compensation than can be paid under state appropriations, it was said. The salary ceiling for chiefs of the commission's accounting and engineering staff now is $8000 a year.

Thorp and his accounting staff have taken an active part in all of the major pubic utility rate and valuation cases before the commission in recent years.

CODFREY PASSES TEST, GETS HIS FLYING LICENSE BACK

TETERBORO, N.J., Sept. 18 (UP)—Radio and television star Arthur Godfrey, grounded for six months for reckless flying, was eligible today to pilot his twin-engined DC-3.

He laid aside his crutches long enough yesterday to pass an 80-minute check-out flight and win back his flying license.

Godfrey's license was suspended last March 16 when a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner ruled that he was guilty of reckless flying during a take-off from Teterboro airport Jan. 7.

MARRYING AGE IN INDIA SET; 21 FOR MEN, 18 FOR GIRLS

NEW DELHI, Sept. 18 (AP)—Parliament's lower house has voted that Indian girls can't marry before they are 18 and boys must wait until they're 21.

The bill which now goes before the upper house, would change the present law which forbids wedlock for boys under 18 and girls less than 14.

Before that law went into effect many Indian unions were arranged in infancy under the old Hindu tradition of child marriage.

FCC NOW ALLOWS 7 TV STATIONS IN SINGLE OWNERSHIP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission made final yesterday a proposed revision of its rules to permit single ownership of as many as seven television stations, provided at least two of them are operated on ultra high frequency channels.

The old rule allowed ownership by one person or group of no more than five stations, making no distinction between UHF and very high frequency (VHF) outlets. Under the change, the limit for all types of broadcasting stations, standard, FM and TV is seven in each category.

The commission expressed the view that liberalization of the TV ownership regulation would provide "a substantial impetus to a more rapid and effective development of UHF broadcasting."

Commissioner Frieda B. Hennock dissented. She asserted that she had outlined a broad program for assisting the development of UHF but said she felt "the solution surely does not lie in enlarging the scope of multiple ownership."

Swedish Premier in Crash.
STOCKHOLM, Sept. 18 (AP)—Swedish Premier Tage Erlander and his wife Anna narrowly escaped injury last night when their automobile crashed into a truck on a slippery road outside Stockholm.

EMERSON, UNION MEN MEET CONCILIATORS

Effort Being Made to Avert Strike Scheduled for Midnight.

Officials of Emerson Electric Manufacturing Co. and representatives of the Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union met today with a panel of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service in an effort to avoid a strike scheduled for midnight tonight.

A. E. Johnson, of the Mediation and Conciliation Service, said both the company and the union had agreed to the meeting.

Johnson, Louis Towers and Nicholas Fillo, also of the Conciliation Service, made up the panel which met the company and union in the Old Federal Building, Eighth and Olive streets.

About 2000 employes of Emerson were informed in telegrams Thursday night by W. R. Persons, president of the company, that operations would cease after the last shift yesterday.

The federal mediators met yesterday with members of the union's Local 1104 and Wagner Electric Corp. representatives in an effort to settle a strike which went into effect at Wagner plants Monday. The effort was not successful.

Son Born to Eve Arden.
HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18 (UP)—Actress Eve Arden, star of the "Our Miss Brooks" television show, gave birth to a son yesterday. Miss Arden is the wife of Actor Brook West. They have two daughters and an infant son who are adopted.

Martha Carr's OPINION

REG U. S. PAT. OFF.

Friday and Saturday columns are devoted to teen-agers who are invited to submit their questions to Martha Carr.

Dear Martha:

I AM a 16-year-old girl in my junior year at high school. I like a boy who is only a sophomore but is my same age. He has taken me out three times and wants me to go steady. I would like your opinion on whether I should accept. There are lots of other boys in my same year but I like this one much better. When I asked my parents, they said he was a very nice boy but I should use my own judgment.

READER.

Unless there are a lot of activities which would be limited to members of only one class, I doubt that the year's difference in class would seem so important. As you know, I think boys and girls often miss a lot of fun by going steady to the exclusion of others whose friendship they would enjoy, but that must be your decision. If your parents think he is the right kind of boy for you, I see no reason not to date him.

★ ★ ★

Dear Martha:

I AM 14 and my boy friend is 15. His birthday will be soon and I want to get him a present. What are your suggestions? J.B.

There are many inexpensive and casual gifts you might select. Is he particularly interested in a certain hobby—sports, for instance, or music, or automobiles? A good book on his favorite subject would be welcome. Or you might select some fine white handkerchiefs, a billfold, fountain pen or pencil, phonograph records, scarf, gloves or key chain.

IN ANSWER TO Betsy: Two new programs for teen-agers are being started by the central branch Y.W.C.A., 1411 Locust street. The Topper Club, co-ed group for volley ball, ping-pong, splash parties, dancing, singing and other recreation meets from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. each Wednesday. Central Teen Town for dancing and refreshments meets from 7:30 to 11 p.m. each Friday. You and your friends will be welcome at both.

Send for Martha Carr's free leaflets, written especially for teen-agers, Popularity for Girls, and E for Etiquette. Be sure to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Genuine Happiness

By Angelo Patri

WE are all born with a certain degree of intelligence. Some have a richer, more promising fund than others. Intelligence wisely applied to the ways of life does more than enable folk to be useful and earn their way. It is the light that guides the soul. After the body is fed, clothed and sheltered there comes the feeling of hunger for the things unseen, the thirst of goodness, that quality of life that makes us feel warm and glad and ready to open our hearts to all the world. Everybody has felt it. Whenever we see a good deed done, whenever we see a man put aside his own feelings, his own wants, his own life to help or to save another, a great good feeling swells in our breasts. We have touched goodness and we love it.

★ ★ ★

INTELLIGENCE LEADS US to know and accept goodness, the greatest happiness of life. Many years must go into converting intelligence into wisdom. It is not born early; it is not given even to the fortunate ones free. It is bought by devoted, honorable, selfless service. It is fed on personal experiences that have been interpreted correctly and applied in daily living day upon day.

Intelligence not wisely trained is a danger to man's goodness. Too many use their clever minds to seek power and praise, to lead their followers astray, to confound the truth, to challenge with slithery arguments the kindly deeds of their fellows. Words that are empty are the forked tools with which they tickle the admiration of weaker minds. What a pity. What an indictment of our whole way of life, in school and out of it.

Is it not clear then that the one who learns to use his intelligence in the way of righteousness is the rightful leader of man? He governs the earth. Ignorance is helpless to oppose him because it does not know and cannot understand.

★ ★ ★

SO LET US CHERISH those who have the power to gain wisdom. They are entitled to our devotion, our loyalty, our cheers. Let us rather provide the teachers, the facilities that will enable them to develop well-balanced minds, ideals that lead to the conservation of man's sanity, ways of behavior that are sincere and honest.

Let us not forget that one intelligent person who knows how a job should be done and does it is the one able to lead a host of people his way and do all in our power to help him develop his intelligence so that in turn he may lead us to genuine happiness and wide usefulness.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

A LETTER tells me: "A friend of mine and her husband come to our house once a week to play cards. The husband invariably brings his brother with them and frankly we find him a terrible bore. We never invited him but as he spends most of his free time at my friend's house, they bring him of their own accord. Is there any way to get them to see that we don't want him—at least not every time."

As they come to your house every week it would seem that you must be on intimate enough terms with your friend to talk to her frankly about this problem and perhaps find a solution.

★ ★ ★

DEAR MRS. POST: My husband did a favor for a man, and in return he took us both out for a big evening: dinner, theater and supper club. We had a most wonderful time. I've wondered whether I shouldn't write him a thank-you note or whether thank you at the end of the evening was sufficient.

Answer: A sincerely said thank-you at the end of the evening was sufficient. If he is not a very busy man, however, it would be nice of you to telephone him to tell him briefly how much you enjoyed the evening.

★ ★ ★

DEAR MRS. POST: When a woman in the business world is merely known as Jane Smith, how is a letter addressed to her? It seems discourteous to omit any title but I dont' know whether she is Miss or Mrs.

Answer: When you don't know, you write "Miss."

My Day

The Changing Pattern of Life in Japan

By Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK.

I HAVE been having the pleasure recently of meeting a number of the women whom I met while I was in Japan.

One charming young woman attended the summer institute at Harvard. Now, she is taking a year's leave from her work in Japan and is going to Bryn Mawr college to study human relationships.

In Japan the pattern of life is changing, and women who were merely immured in their husband's homes, ran the household, bore the children and took care of them until they were old enough to be taken over by the men, are now realizing that they may be factors—in different ways—for good in the life of the country.

★ ★ ★

IN THE FARMING AREAS the women always did a large amount of the work in the fields, in addition to household tasks, but they were not treated as equals by the men. Of late, on the social and economic level, women are changing their positions, and this changes the relationship between men and women. For this reason, it is intelligent to come to a country where relationships are more or less stabilized, in a modern way, to make this study.

Mme. Sumiko Tanaka is young and full of charm. She wears her native costume most of the time, but she would look appropriately dressed in western costume too. She is intelligent, with a remarkable command of the English language, and I feel sure she will not only benefit by her time here, but will do much for the relationship between Japan and the United States if she is able to meet a great many people while she is here.

★ ★ ★

I TOOK Miss Tanaka, with two other friends, to see Shirley Booth in "By the Beautiful Sea." This play gives you a pleasant evening. The book and the music are agreeable, and Miss Booth is excellent, but it is one of those plays in which Americans make fun of themselves in the past, and the picture of Coney Island is not exactly accurate. Miss Tanaka enjoyed herself and was amused. However, when I heard her murmur: "Now I know what Coney Island is like," I thought I had better tell her quickly that this is a picture of the past and a rather exaggerated and grotesque one, even for the past.

One of the things we Americans should understand is the fact that, both in our theater and in our movies, we know when we are making fun of ourselves. But when plays and movies are taken to other areas of the world the acceptance of them is a bit too literal. They are taken, almost always, to be factual, honest representations of life as it is lived in America. That is not conducive to a better understanding between us and the world community.

Brain Game

HERE is a quiz on pirates and buccaneers. Six correct answers is excellent.

1. What pirate was pardoned for his aid in defending New Orleans in the War of 1812?
2. What was the nickname by which the British pirate Edward Teach was famous?
3. Can you name the buccaneer who commanded the "Golden Hind?"
4. What is the name of the fictional pirate of "Treasure Island"?
5. What British buccaneer captured Panama by driving wild bulls against the city?
6. Who composed the opera, "Pirates of Penzance"?
7. John Hawkins, an English privateer, was knighted for his part in what battle?
8. What three countries combined forces to wipe out the Barbary Pirates?

ANSWERS

1. Jean Lafitte. 2. "Blackbeard." 3. Francis Drake. 4. Long John Silver. 5. Henry Morgan. 6. Gilbert and Sullivan. 7. Defeat of the Spanish Armada. 8. The United States, Britain and The Netherlands.

Kitchen Drawers

Kitchen drawers are easier to clean if the bottom and sides are lined with linoleum.

Kraut and Salad

By Edith M. Barber

POTATO SALAD WITH JELLIED SAUERKRAUT OFFERS AN INTERESTING TASTE AND TEXTURE CONTRAST.

IT seems as if it would be difficult to surprise a former resident of north or central Europe with any sauerkraut dish, so popular there. This was accomplished, however, when a mixture of sauerkraut and tomato juice was served as an appetizer to a group, some of the members of which had recently arrived from Poland.

Another novel combination I ate recently was a jellied kraut and potato salad, about which the men particularly seemed to be enthusiastic. Actually, the potato salad was used as a base for the jellied sauerkraut, and this resulted in a good contrast of textures as well as of flavors.

Of course, we use sauerkraut in hot form more often and like it particularly well with frankfurters, boiled beef or smoked tenderloin. Although the canned sauerkraut is well cooked, most of us like to cook it an hour or so more, perhaps flavored with bacon or ham fat and sometimes combined with apples and a bit of onion.

Possibly, you will enjoy the flavor of caraway seeds as well. And, if you happen to have a few tablespoons of wine left over, it will add a subtle flavor that is hard to distinguish but delicious.

Savory Sauerkraut.

Ingredients: one-fourth cup bacon fat or drippings, one No. 2 can sauerkraut, two tablespoons sugar, salt, pepper.

Add fat to undrained kraut and simmer uncovered over low heat for one hour. Add a little more water if necessary. Add sugar, and salt and pepper to taste. Yield: six servings.

Note: two sliced peeled apples and one sliced onion may be added.

Two-Toned Kraut and Potato Salad.

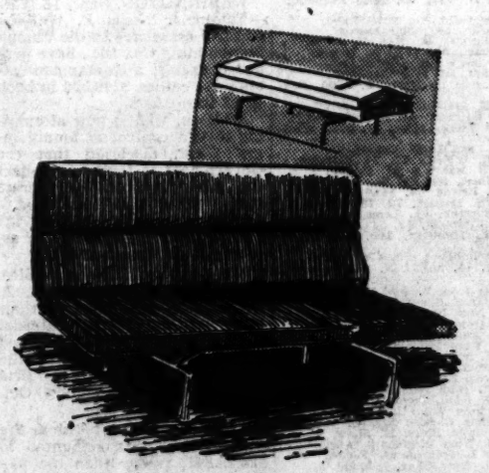
One No. 2 can sauerkraut, two envelopes unflavored gelatine, three cups sauerkraut and tomato juice, two tablespoons brown sugar, three cups diced, cooked potatoes, one-half cup chopped sweet mixed pickles, three-fourths cup chopped onions, one-half cup chopped green pepper, two tablespoons sweet pickle liquid, three-fourths cup mayonnaise, salt, pepper.

Drain sauerkraut, reserving liquid. Soften gelatine in one-half cup sauerkraut and tomato juice, and stir over hot water until dissolved. Add sugar, remaining juice and sauerkraut. Mix well and turn into one-quart loaf pan. Chill in refrigerator until firm. Combine potatoes, pickles, onions, green pepper, pickle liquid and mayonnaise. Season to taste with salt and pepper and mix well. Chill. Shape potato salad into a one and one-half inch thick oblong. Unmold kraut salad on top of potato salad. Garnish with parsley sprigs and radish slices, if desired. Yield: four to six servings.

Designing Woman

The First Eames Sofa

By Elizabeth Hillyer



CHARLES EAMES is famed for his inventiveness at design, and his furniture always takes novel form as he explodes new methods of making it. The Eames chair of molded plywood is a classic. It's the most famous piece of contemporary furniture that is known by its designer's name. Known, too, are his chairs that are molded of the stern plastic stuff of crash helmets, his wire chairs, and his steel-frame cabinets—all trail blazers in furniture form and manufacture.

But Eames had never designed a sofa until this one. Again, he thinks beyond new appearance and comfort. The sofa is fully upholstered and has a back which is high enough to be a comfortable headrest. And the sofa has the added advantage of being easy to pack up and move in minimum shipping space. The back folds down onto the seat and with the chromium base detached, the sofa fits into a 12-inch deep carton.

Do you buy for your home according to plan? Or do you buy hit-and-miss and make unhappy mistakes? Send for planning advice from an expert, Elizabeth Hillyer's new leaflet called "Seven Point Plan for Home Furnishings Buying." It's yours for the asking and a stamped, self-addressed envelope sent with your request to Miss Hillyer at this newspaper.

Fall Stoles

Stoles that are knitted of heavy wool yarn are sufficiently warm to serve as fall wraps. Many of these are appearing in the stores, and offer suggestions to brighten a wardrobe. Bold stripes of orange and black or of black and white are among the most arresting types seen. The plaid stole that is both long and wide is another to consider.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

NORTH and South got into the usual sort of argument in the following hand—the usual sort being that both disputants get so aroused over their points that they miss the truly pertinent point.

South, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

	♠AK1085 ♥Q6 ♦107 ♣KQ84
♠62 ♥K72 ♦K6542 ♣1075	NORTH WEST EAST SOUTH	♠Q9743 ♥AJ1095 ♦3 ♣A6
	♠J ♥843 ♦AQJ98 ♣J932

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1♠	Pass
2♦	Pass	Pass	2♥
Pass	Pass	2♠	Pass
3♦	Dble.	Pass	Pass
Pass

West opened the deuce of his partner's heart bid, and when the battle was over South had only seven tricks. The 300-point penalty was no great tragedy, but it was big enough to irritate both North and South—so the words started to fly.

South insisted that North was to blame—he should not have competed against East's two-heart bid. North just as stoutly maintained that it would have been silly and cowardly to sell out so cheaply—that it usually pays to compete for a part-score, especially when the competitor is not vulnerable.

North was right—even righter than he knew. It does pay to compete for part-score contracts when you are not vulnerable—if you can depend on your partner to use good judgment. A one-trick set costs nothing at all if your opponents are prevented from playing a contract they can make; and even an occasional two-trick set is no catastrophe when it is considered that aggressive bidding sometimes pushes the enemy from a makable to an unmakable contract.

But the point that North overlooked was the more pertinent one in this case. South had screamed before he was hurt. The two-spade rebid had not been doubled, so South obviously should have passed, singleton or no. It goes without saying that West could not have doubled two spades—and what could happen at a non-vulnerable, undoubled contract?

Weekly Report On Public Health

By J. Earl Smith, M.D.
(St. Louis Health Commissioner)

A HEALTH DEPARTMENT, like a jigsaw puzzle, is made up of many parts, all of which fit together to give the services that help to prevent disease and disability, prolong life, and assure a clean, healthy community.

The private citizen alone can't prevent epidemics, wipe out communicable diseases or stop needless deaths of mothers and babies. No individual effort can assure you that the food you eat and the milk you drink is free from contamination.

To give your community these and other safeguards requires the service of many people with all types of specialized training—people whose daily job means that everything we do and every place we go is safer and better for us. Yet many of us aren't even aware of their existence.

★ ★ ★

THE PUBLIC HEALTH SANITARIAN, for instance, is the man who guards our food, the sanitary conditions surrounding our homes, our working conditions, even our swimming pools.

Because of these sanitarians, St. Louisans can choose a restaurant with assurance, just by glancing at the grade sticker on the door. We know that restaurant is routinely inspected by persons well qualified by experience and training in the sanitary standards necessary to protect food from contamination.

Other sanitarians help to supervise the production and delivery of milk in St. Louis. They also inspect every animal slaughtered for human food within our community.

Every year sanitarians investigate thousands of complaints received from citizens dealing with a wide variety of environmental sanitation problems such as inadequate heat, accumulations of refuse, insanitary housing conditions, rodent, insect and other vermin infestations, and defective plumbing.

★ ★ ★

THEIRS is not necessarily a "police" kind of action. Most people want to live in healthy, clean surroundings and it is the sanitarian's job to help you, your landlord, your boss, even your butcher and baker, to correct conditions that might be harmful to your health. He knows, too, that most community environmental problems can be worked out or avoided through information, so he strives to put health education into action by teaching good environmental sanitation practices in advance.

Let's Explore Your Mind

By Dr. Albert E. Wiggam

Answer to Question 1.

"BUT." If a mother-in-law really tries, and if she keeps "but"-ing long enough, she can wreck any marriage. In the play "Never Say Goodbye," the divorced couple love each other, but the mother keeps saying to the daughter, "Yes. He's kind, but. . . ; I know he's attractive, but. . . ." Finally she wears daughter down and keeps her from going back to husband for over a year.

Answer to Question 2.

A survey showed single women have the following worries far more than married women: Getting fat, daydreaming, what others think of them, feeling inferior, biting fingernails, blushing too much, halitosis and unpopularity.

Answer to Question 3.

Apparently true. The New York State Health Commission found in Syracuse that most mental hospital patients were elderly persons who have lived in multiple dwellings in impoverished areas. Far fewer came from equally impoverished areas with single homes. Strongly indicates neighbors in poor apartments constituted a large factor.

Six simple but priceless rules to help double your reading speed. A remarkable key to knowledge and success. For a copy of the booklet, "HOW TO READ FASTER AND BETTER," send 15 cents (coin only), plus self-addressed, stamped envelope (give name of city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, care of the Post-Dispatch.

Quick Sauce

Want a quick sauce for creole shrimp? Cook a little chopped onion and green pepper in a tablespoon or two of butter or margarine; add a can of condensed tomato soup and a half cup of light cream and heat—along with a pound of cooked shrimp—to serving temperature. Serve over fluffy cooked rice.

Original Hollywood Pattern

A COTTON basic to fill your everyday needs is this new side-wrap style with sash tie-in-the-front and brief sleeves to give you ease with a capital "E." Note the huge patch pocket to add extra comfort and the smooth V-neck styling to give you a smart neckline as well as an added simplicity to this easy-sew style. Trim with ric-rac around the pocket and sleeves and all the way down the front, or just leave it plain; either idea is destined to give you a favorite stay-at-home from breakfast until bedtime.

Fabric suggestions: Cottons of all types, seersuckers or even corduroys. Prints, plaids or plain fabrics. Something that makes you feel just as much at home in your fabric as you do in this simple design.

Star Pattern No. 276 comes in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46.

Material requirements: Size 18: Side-wrap housedress requires 4½ yards of 35-inch or four yards of 39-inch. If ric-rac is desired, use 4¾ yards.

For a Star Pattern send 50 cents in coin to Star Pattern Department, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Box 350, Madison Square Station, New York 10, N.Y. Please include pattern number.

BELGIUM TO SELL URANIUM TO SWISS, SWAP INFORMATION

BRUSSELS, Sept. 18 (UP)—Belgium and Switzerland today signed an atomic exchange agreement that eventually may channel American nuclear information to the neutral Swiss.

Belgium agreed to sell Switzerland supplies of Congo uranium, the vital atomic raw material that Belgium previously furnished only to the United States and Britain under a secret wartime treaty.

The two nations also contracted to trade scientific information on construction and exploitation of atomic piles.

The agreement was signed in Brussels and Bern only 12 days after President Eisenhower announced that the United States will help Belgium to build an atomic reactor.

An estimated 60 to 70 per cent of the uranium used in research and bomb production by the United States and Britain has come from the Belgian Congo under a 1944 agreement which granted the Western powers exclusive use of the rich Congo deposits.

DR. MAUD SLYE, CANCER RESEARCHER, DIES AT 75

CHICAGO, Sept. 18 (AP)—Dr. Maud Slye, noted cancer researcher and retired pathologist of the University of Chicago, died last night of a heart ailment. She was 75 years old.

Dr. Slye devoted 38 years to the study of hereditary susceptibilities of cancer in mice. After her retirement she continued compiling the data from the lifetime histories of the 150,000 mice she bred and dissected, trying to substantiate her theory that human cancer could be eliminated by breeding it out of the race.

Dr. Slye, descendant of a family which traced back to John Alden of Plymouth colony, was a graduate of Brown university, Providence, R.I., in 1899 and was made associate professor of pathology at the University of Chicago in 1926.

In 1914 she was awarded the gold medal of the American Medical Association; in 1915, the Ricketts prize, and in 1922, the gold medal of the American Radiological Society.

A sister, Miss Katharine Slye, with whom she lived, survives.

INDUSTRIAL STOCKS MAKE WEEK'S MARKET

New Average High Since Sept. 26, 1929 Is Recorded in 7.49 Points Rise.

By ELMER C. WALZER.
United Press Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (UP)—Industrial stocks made the stock market during the past week. They soared to a new average high since Sept. 26, 1929, and at the week's close were 99 83-100ths points above the close of Sept. 14, 1953. Rails and utilities gained a few cents. They provided a few features but nothing like the industrial group which ran up on new investment demand and short covering.

The lure of uranium helped many an issue. Titanium also helped here and there. The mere mention of atomic power gave issues a lift. There were bigger gains in more prosaic shares too—oils, for example. Tires, chemicals, televisions and steels furnished features.

Trading picked up despite some dullness at times. Daily average volume amounted to 2,080,171 shares, against a daily average of 1,849,420 shares last week.

Index Up 7.49 Points.

At the close of the week, the industrial average stood at 355.32, a rise of 7.49 points on the week. This average closed at 255.49 on Sept. 14, 1953, a day of sharply declining prices which many thought marked a new bear market. Instead there was a roaring bull market. Prices have risen almost continuously since then, especially in industrials.

Rails in the past week managed to add a mere 65 cents to their average. Atlantic Coast Line lost more than a point which was more than offset by a 2⅜ point rise in Santa Fe. Some of the rails outside the group making up the averages moved higher.

In the oil department Texas Gulf producing gained 6½ points and gains of more than 4 points each were noted in Texas Pacific Land Trust and in Standard Oil (N.J.). Magma Copper ran up more than 4 points to top the metals which included issues with uranium tinges.

Steel Prediction.

Canadium rose nearly 3 points and gains of more than a point appeared in Bethlehem and U.S. Steel. Motorola rose 2 points in the televisions; Allied Chemical more than 3 and du Pont more than 2 in the chemicals; General Motors gained nearly 4 in the motors; Goodyear rose 10 in tires. Hooker Electrochemical soared 6½ on a three-for-one split.

Predictions that steel operations soon will hit 70 per cent of capacity together with a rise this week to a new high since June helped that section with the exception of Youngstown Sheet which lost more than 2 points on talk the Justice Department may block its merger with Bethlehem.

Government stockpiling and firming of world prices helped the metals. Among individual metals, Anaconda was helped by announcement it was expanding its New Mexico uranium refinery. Union Carbide rose on announcement of a new plant to produce 7500 tons of titanium yearly.

The Closing Market.

At the close on Friday, the industrial average registered its eleventh rise in 12 sessions. In the Wednesday session the average had a small decline. Next day it more than made it up and it continued to rise during the remainder of the week.

General business news was seen as favorable for the market and some drew inflationary conclusions from a rise in the budget deficit estimate. Increasing defense orders were seen as a sustaining influence.

Hydraulic Press Brick Votes 20c.

Hydraulic Press Brick Co. increased the quarterly payments on the common stock, declaring 20 cents a share payable Nov. 1 to stock of record Oct. 15. In preceding quarters payments were at the rate of 15 cents a share.

TIDEWATER ASSOCIATED OIL

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP) — To meet the needs of stockholders requiring a current cash income, Tide Water Associated Oil Co. is considering making available a dividend-paying preferred stock in exchange for a portion of outstanding common.

Announcing this today, the company added that "the entire subject is still under consideration and study."

The firm noted that the board of directors has decided to use all cash income "reasonably available" for modernisation and expansion.

The company has not paid a cash dividend on the common since last March. A 5 per cent stock dividend was disbursed in June.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP)—Closing foreign exchange rates Friday follow (Great Britain in dollars, others in cents): Canadian dollar in New York open market 2¼ per cent premium or 103.31¼, United States cents. Great Britain (pound) 2.80 1-16; 30-day futures 2.80 1-16; 60-day futures 2.80 1-16; 90-day futures 2.80 1-16.

WOLFSON FIGHTS TAX ASSESSMENT

Financier Says U.S. Didn't Allow Enough Depreciation for Shipbuilding Firm.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (UP)—Finaincier Louis E. Wolfson and two associates in the Tampa Shipbuilding Co., Inc., have protested against a Government attempt to collect $240,326 in back taxes from them.

Wolfson, who is now attempting to win control of Montgomery Ward, disclosed that the Government is trying to collect the money for 1947 corporate taxes. The three men filed a petition in United States tax court protesting against the assessment as unwarranted.

Wolfson and his associates, Doran Weinstein and J. A. B. Broadwater, contended in their court petition that the Internal Revenue Service undervalued the depreciable assets of the now defunct Tampa (Fla.) firm for the tax year ending Oct. 31, 1947.

According to the petition, the depreciable assets amounted to $2,928,841, rather than the $1,010,999 determined by the tax bureau. As a result, the petition said, the Tampa concern was not subject to the surtax claimed by the Government.

Wolfson acquired Tampa Shipbuilding at the ende of 1945. The corporation was dissolved in October 1948.

DAVID WRIGHT DIES, OFFERED MAC ARTHUR A $100,000 JOB

DUNKIRK, N. Y., Sept. 18 (AP)—David S. Wright, wealthy seed company executive and philanthropist who once offered Gen. Douglas MacArthur a job at $100,000 a year, died yesterday. He was 89 years old.

Wright, whose disputes with the Federal Government over seed germination tests and packaging labels kept the United States district attorney's office busy for years, lent or gave this city more than $1,000,000. In the depression years, when Dunkirk's treasury was close to empty, Wright financed city payrolls.

When MacArthur was relieved of his duties as commander in the Far East, Wright offered him an executive position with the Wright Seed Co. MacArthur did not accept.

JANET JAGAN SENTENCED TO 3 MONTHS IN PRISON

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Sept. 18 (AP) — Janet Jagan, American-born wife of ousted Premier Cheddi Jagan, was sentenced to three months in prison on charges of possessing subversive literature.

The term will run concurrently with another three-month sentence she began serving last week after refusing to pay a $250 fine for holding an illegal political meeting.

DIRKSEN PREDICTS GAIN IN G.O.P. SENATE MARGIN

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 18 (AP) — Senator Everett Dirksen (Rep.), Illinois, predicted in an interview last night that majority in the Senate will be increased to "at least three or four" in the November elections.

Dirksen was in Chattanooga to speak in behalf of O.M. Spence, a Republican candidate for Representative.

ALTON BUILDING BURNS; SHORT CIRCUIT IS BLAMED

One of the oldest commercial structures in Alton, the four-story brick Sparks Mill Building, 317-19 West Broadway, caught fire yesterday and blazed fiercely before the fire was brought under control by Alton firemen and equipment from nearby communities.

Flames shot 20 to 30 feet into the air from the top of the 97-year-old building and threatened the Alton business district for a time when a strong south wind sprang up. The roof and top floor were badly damaged and there was water damage to the first and second floors, only ones in use at the time.

A short circuit in a freight elevator motor was thought to be responsible. No estimate of the damage was available. The building is owned by the Madison Manufacturing Co.

BETHLEHEM STEEL AND UNION AGREE ON 12-CENT PAY RISE

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Bethlehem Steel Co. and the Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America reached a contract agreement early today affecting 16,000 workers in eight East Coast plants and providing for a 12-cent-an-hour across-the-board package increase.

The provisions of the new contract are: A 3-cents-an-hour wage increase, effective Sept. 20, plus an added 2-cent hourly boost as of Nov. 1 of this year; an increased pension contribution by the company amounting to 5 cents an hour, and insurance benefits totaling 2 cents an hour. The pension and insurance clauses also go into effect Nov. 1.

The new contract will run to Aug. 1, 1956, with a wage reopening after one year. A union spokesman said the current hourly pay averages $2.07.

HOG MARKET UP FOR WEEK, LAMB PRICES ARE DOWN

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Sept. 18 (USDA weekly review of the livestock market.)

Steers and heifers average choice and above were mostly 50c higher in week ended Friday, other grades steady to 50c lower in comparison with the previous Friday. Extremely bearish trading prevailed on the close. Utility and Commercial cows lost early gains of 50c and more, canners and cutters closing weak to unevenly lower. Bulls went unchanged, vealers losing $1.00 with slaughter calves $1.00 and more lower. Replacement steers weak to unevenly lower, demand fair. Bulk choice steers brought $23@$25, small showing $25.25@$25.50 with mostly high choice 1041 and 1172-lb. steers $25.75.

Club fed yearling steers grading prime reached $27.25. Good and low choice steers bulked $20.50@$23, commercial and low good $18@$20. Good and choice heifers and mixed yearlings $19@$23.50. Prime 970-lb. mixed yearlings $25.25. Utility and commercial heifers and mixed yearlings $12@$18. Commercial cows reached $13, utility and comercial mainly $9.50@$12.50, canners and cutters $6@$9 with light shells $5@$5.50. A spread of $12@$13.50 took utility and commercial bulls, canner and cutter bulls $6@$11 with heavy fat bulls $10.50@$11.50.

Prime vealers reached $22, closing at $21 with good and choice for the week $15@$19, commercial and good $12@$15, commercial and good slaughter calves $10.50@$14.

Compared with close of last week, barrows and gilts, 190 lbs. up, finished mostly 25c higher, lighter weights and sows 25 to 50c higher. Tops for the week ranged from $20 Wednesday to $21.35 for one load Monday, the Friday top being $20.60. For the week, bulk of 200 to 260 lbs. graded at $19.75@$21; 170 to 190 lbs. $19.50@$20.75; 150 to 170 lbs. $18.50@$20.25. Sows topped at $19.75, bulk 400 lbs. down for the week at $17.50@19.25, heavier sows $15@$17.25.

Spring lambs were under continuous pressure all week and closed unevenly $1@2.50 lower, choice and prime grades suffering most. Lambs selling under $16 were supported by broad feeder demand and showed little change. Several hundred lambs topped early at $21 but nothing bettered $20 after midweek, with final top $19. About 40 per cent of run comprised choice and prime at $20@$21, and about 35 per cent comprised good to prime from $17@$21. About 15 per cent were cull to utility at $13@$16, including several hundred feeders at $15@$16. Slaughter ewes held steady, mostly $3@$4, a few $4.25@$4.50.

WEEK'S AUTO PRODUCTION

DETROIT, Sept. 18 (AP)—With only seven of the nation's 18 auto plants in production, car and truck manufacture will drop again this week to the lowest point since November 1953, Ward's Automotive reports said.

The publication estimated this week's output would be 57,115 cars and 13,644 trucks for a total of 70,761 vehicles. Production will be about 14.5 per cent under last week's holiday-shortened total of 82,747, the previous weekly low for the year.

The estimate of this week's assemblies compares with 115,454 cars and 23,195 trucks in like week last year.

Canadian production is estimated at 1910 cars and 426 trucks as compared with 1662 cars and 314 trucks last week. In the comparable week of 1953 Canadian plants turned out 7083 cars and 1180 trucks.

Ward's said the slight increase in truck production was due mainly to stepped up programs at Ford, Dodge, International and Willys. Chevrolet and General Motors Corp. reported slight declines in truck totals.

So far this year United States manufacturers have turned out 4,018,089 cars and 745,956 trucks. In a comparable 1953 period the total was 4,667,229 cars and 904,677 trucks.

U.P. Orders 25 Sleeping Cars.

OMAHA, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Union Pacific Railroad announced it has ordered 25 sleeping cars, costing $7,000,000, from the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Co. of Chicago.

A spokesman for the railroad said the new equipment is needed for the road's growing fleet of streamliners. The first, he said, was the two-car "City of Salina," which was introduced as the nation's first streamlined train 20 years ago. At present the road has six streamliners totaling 28 sets of equipment, he added.

Mississippi Valley Stockyards.

Cattle: For the week: High good, choice and prime steers and heifers bulked $22@26; good to prime vealers $16@21.

Hogs: Week's closing top was $21.50 paid for a few choice No. 1s and 2s; average 200s-280s $20.25@20.65; 150s to 180s $18.75@20; packing sows $15.50@19.50.

Sheep: Good to prime spring lambs brought $17.50@19 Friday; bulk medium to good $15@17.

Tears for the Bride

By ROBERT MARTIN

CHAPTER SEVEN

As we approached the ravine, we heard the sound of gunfire. I looked at Ralph, and he furrowed his dark brows in a frown. Another shot rang out in the cold November air. It seemed to come from the far side of the ravine.

"Is that your father and the Fortunes?" I asked Ralph.

He shook his head. "I don't think so—they headed the other way, toward the house. It's probably some city hunters on the place without permission."

We reached the edge of the ravine, and Ralph went down the steep side, running stiff-legged to keep his balance, and stared up the other side. Sandy and I followed him, holding our guns clear of the underbrush. A gun cracked nearby, and the dry branches of the trees around rattled faintly. Something struck my hat brim, like a pebble falling.

"The fools," Sandy said angrily. "They're shooting too close to us."

Ahead of us and above, Ralph gained the top of the opposite side of the ravine, and for an instant his tall form was silhouetted against the bright blue sky. In that instant the unseen gun spoke again, two quick shots, and I saw a pheasant rise over the crest and wheel away to my right. I raised my gun to my shoulder, began to lead the bird with the sights, and put slow pressure on the trigger.

Sandy's stricken voice stopped me. "Jim! Ralph's hurt!"

I turned and looked upward, and I saw Ralph swaying on his feet. He dropped his gun, leaned briefly against the trunk of a big beech tree, and then slid slowly to the ground.

I reached him first. There was no blood yet, but I could see where the bird shot had entered. Thin black furrows slanted in horizontal lines across his right shoulder and chest, leaving ragged tears in his leather jacket. He laid his cheek against the brown leaves and he began to cough, and the leaves were suddenly stained red.

* * *

I KNELT over him and snapped at Sandy. "Run to the house and call a doctor. I'll bring him in."

She ran like a young deer down the ravine, her brown hair glinting in the sunlight.

Gently I turned Ralph on his back and un-zipped his leather jacket. The shotgun pellets had penetrated deeply and blood was already soaking his flannel shirt. "Ralph," I said sharply.

He tried to grin at me, but caught his lower lip between his teeth in sudden pain, and started to cough again. I gathered his long body in my arms as gently as I could, and carefully started down the side of the ravine.

There was a sound behind me, and I turned. Judy Kirkland was coming up the hill on the far side, from a small valley below. She reached the crest, panting, and looking at me dumbly, and at the form of Ralph in my arms. He was limp now, and his eyes were closed.

Judy's face went gray and pinched-looking. She opened her mouth, but no sound came out.

"Were you doing that shooting?" I snapped.

"Yes, I—I guess so. I was standing down there in the thicket, and I saw a bird fly out of the ravine. Did I . . .?"

"Yes," I said grimly, turning away. "You hit Ralph." I started down the side of the ravine, holding Ralph as gently as I could.

She scrambled after me. "Wait," she panted. "I—"

"Wait, nothing. This boy has got to get to a doctor. Bring the guns, if you want to help."

She gathered up the two shotguns, and I could hear her following me, slipping and sliding on the hill. When we reached the barnyard at last I could feel the sweat drenching my body, and I was panting like a relay runner after the last hurdle.

* * *

SANDY and her mother were waiting on the back porch. They stared at Ralph dumbly, and Sandy opened the door. A sheet and a pillow had been placed on one of the divans in the living room, and as I laid Ralph down Mrs. Hollis moaned, "Ralph, my baby . . ."

Sandy said in a strained voice, "Dr. Mazzini is on the way. He should be here by now . . ."

I unbuttoned Ralph's shirt and then I knew that at least one of the pellets had gone deep.

I had forgotten about Judy Kirkland until she spoke. "Those sun glasses. I—I didn't see Ralph. All I saw was the bird rising . . ." Her voice choked off.

We heard the crunch of wheels in the drive, and the sound of a car door slamming. Sandy ran to the front door and came back into the room with a tall man, a dark, hatless man who wore a blue woolen muffler and a gray tweed overcoat. He had short, curly black hair and a lean, dark, Indian-like face, alert black eyes. He ignored all of us and we stood aside while he knelt beside the divan.

"Hospital," he said shortly. "Two of those shots are pretty deep—might be in the lung. I'll take him in my car."

The two of us carried Ralph out to the doctor's car and laid him gently on the rear seat. Sandy handed me a blanket. I folded it around Ralph and sat beside him on the edge of the seat. The doctor got behind the wheel. "All set?" he snapped.

Sandy said, "Can — I go along?"

"Sure," the doctor said. "Hop in."

Swiftly Sandy got in beside him, and he started the motor. Judy Kirkland appeared beside the car and fumbled at the door latch.

"No," the doctor snapped, "you stay here."

Judy backed away with a faintly dazed expression. The Ford's rear wheels skidded on the stone as we swung in a circle and took off. I looked out of rear window and saw Judy and Mrs. Hollis standing in the drive gazing after us. As we turned into the highway, the doctor said, "Who shot him?"

"Judy," I said.

His lean jaw tightened, but he made no comment.

Sandy stared straight ahead, and said nothing. Ralph muttered something, and I tried to make him more comfortable. It took us maybe 10 minutes to reach the hospital in Ridge Center, a long, low-roofed building on the edge of the village with a cement parking area around it. The doctor stopped at a rear entrance labeled "Emergency," blew a blast on the horn, and got out. Almost immediately two white-uniformed nurses appeared with a wheeled, white-sheeted stretcher and rolled it up to the car. The doctor barked quick orders as we lifted Ralph out. Then we were inside the hospital and moving down a long corridor. Sandy was beside me, but the doctor had disappeared. They rushed Ralph through swinging doors into a room that gleamed dazzling white for an instant before the doors swished softly shut. A sign above said, "Surgery."

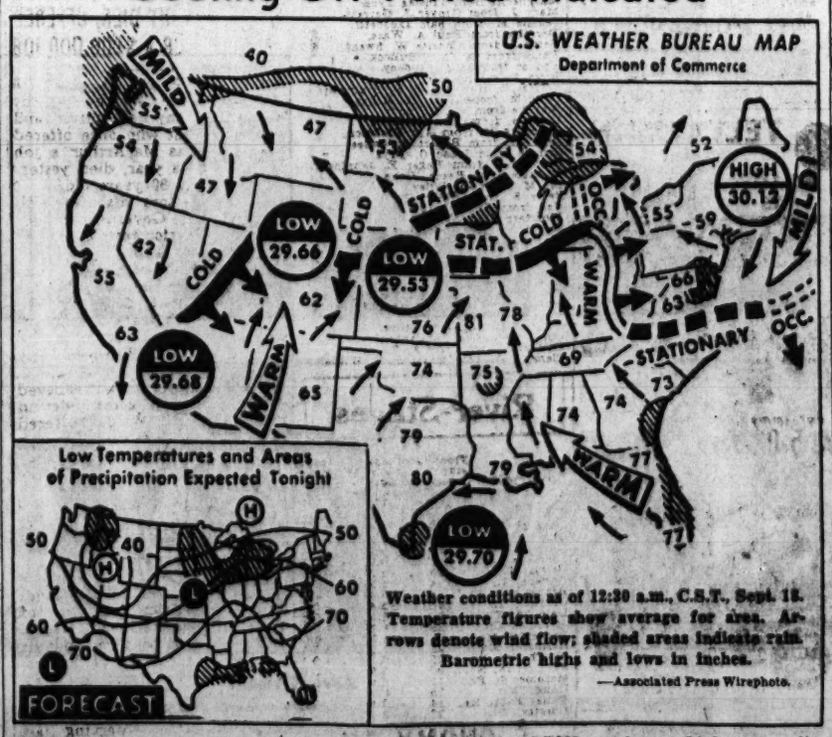
Cooling-Off Period Indicated



Weather conditions as of 12:30 a.m., C.S.T., Sept. 18. Temperature figures show average for area. Arrows denote wind flow; shaded areas indicate rain. Barometric highs and lows in inches.

—Associated Press Wirephoto.

Partly cloudy weather and a slight cooling-off this weekend were indicated today, as light rain fell in the downtown area this morning and brought the temperature down to 72 at 9 a.m.

There was scattered rain in most middle western states and the upper Mississippi valley and the Great Lakes region. Light rains were reported at some points in Missouri.

The day's surprise was the first snow of the season, a one-inch accumulation at Mullen Pass, Mont. It was quite cold in some Rocky Mountain areas, and coldest at Winnemucca, Nev., where a 24-degree reading was reported.

A cool Monday, with high temperatures in the low 80s, was predicted for St. Louis. The cooling effect of increasing cloudiness was indicated in the range of overnight temperatures from the middle 60s to the middle 70s across Missouri.

Uncle Ray's Column

By Ramon Coffman

QUEBEC, Que.

WHILE walking about the streets of this city, I saw and entered a building. This building might be called a small museum, but there is only one exhibit of importance—"the skull of Montcalm."

A nun took a cover cloth from a glass case. Inside the case I saw all that may be seen of the remains of Gen. Montcalm, a field marshal who tried to save Canada for the French Empire.

* * *

AT THAT TIME Quebec was the "key to Canada." Whoever controlled the city was likely to hold power over a big stretch of land.

Two nations — France and Great Britain—were struggling for the St. Lawrence valley, and the chief battle came when the British made an attack on Quebec. The armies fought on the Plains of Abraham 195 years ago.

It is a strange fact that the commander of each side fell mortally wounded during the battle. Gen. Wolfe, the British leader, died too soon to enjoy the victory of his troops.

After the battle was over, the British took control of Quebec. The province as well as the city, later became part of united Canada.

* * *

ANOTHER strange fact is that a single monument was set up to honor the two generals. A tall shaft of granite now stands inside the city of Quebec, and it bears the names of Wolfe and Montcalm.

Scores of monuments have been prepared for generals, but it is rare for a single monument to honor men who were opposing commanders in a battle.

Quebec is now a seaport of importance. Good-sized ocean vessels anchor in the huge harbor. In the harbor I have seen the vessel which will carry me to Europe. It flies the Dutch flag, but England is the first country I shall visit.
